Designed to Prevent Labor Turnover

New 'Freeze' Order Soon on Jobs

Will Affect Thousands Of Workers

OTTAWA, Sept. 20.—(CP)—A sweeping new "freezing" order embracing employees of many industries, including those in jobs of the high "A" and "B" priorities, will be announced within a few days, it was learned authoritatively here today.

Officials here declined comment but it was understood the order would affect many thousands of workers untouched by previous "job freezing" regulations. It was believed to be designed to increase the efficiency of labor employed in essential work by checking wastage through labor turnover.

The list of priority ratings for employment is secret but jobs of "A" and "B" priority would include those in many essential industries. Existing regulations have frozen some essential workers, such as coal miners, school teachers, ship builders and farmers, in their jobs.

Workers in other occupations are free to leave their jobs at any time but must obtain a permit to seek or accept a new job. These permits may be restricted to direct them into certain types of higher priority work.

The government has issued a number of compulsory transfer labor orders through which men in specified groups have been instructed to switch from non-essential to essential work.

Nazi Retreat From Salerno Reported Underway

Heights Dominating Naples Gulf Seized By 5th Army Troops

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(CP)—The BBC today quoted a Reuters News Agency dispatch from Allied headquarters in North Africa as saying that British motorized formations are advancing rapidly on Poggia, important air base 60 miles north of Bari on the Italian west coast.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, Sept. 20.—Signs of a German retreat from the Salerno area were reported officially today as the Fifth Army seized all dominating heights on the Sorrento peninsula overlooking Naples Gulf and drove inland from Battipaglia.

Allied fighter-bombers blasted and strafed long columns of hundreds of German trucks moving into the mountains above Salerno in what may be the start of a general retreat. At least 246 out of perhaps 1,800 trucks were destroyed or damaged Sunday alone.

Allied aircraft enjoyed a field day as they ranged up and down the narrow, clogged mountain roads running north from Contursi, 10 miles east of Eboli, unopposed by German aircraft. One hundred and nine trucks were left blazing wrecks and 137 others were damaged badly.

Enemy Resistance Said Weakening

The ground forces communique reported weakening enemy resistance all along the Fifth Army bridgehead on Salerno Gulf—another indication that the Germans had begun to withdraw from the area.

Seizure of dominating heights on the Sorrento peninsula, which separates Salerno and Naples gulfs, extended the bridgehead along a narrow piece of land jutting 24 miles out into the sea.

The seizure of the Sorrento heights which lie in the British sector of the Fifth Army front gave the Allied forces positions directly across the gulf of Naples from the port of Naples, a distance of about 15 miles, which might put the harbor within range of big artillery if desired. Big guns also will be in a position to protect the Allied forces driving from Salerno along the coast road which skirts the gulf to Naples or to shell the Germans retiring toward that road.

It appeared, however, that the seizure of the heights on Sorrento peninsula was primarily part of the flanking and precautionary opera-

MOSCOW, Sept. 20.—Red armies smashed to within 160 miles of the Polish border today, liberating 1,200 towns and villages along a 750-mile front and cracking the main defences before the big stronghold of Smolensk.

(The Falangist newspaper Arriba of Madrid told in a Berlin dispatch of speculation the Germans may be planning to withdraw to a new Siegfried line along the Polish frontiers, abandoning entirely the Russian campaign.)

The fall of Dukhovschina and Yartsevo, 30 miles to the northeast and east respectively, breached the "Smolensk gate," Premier Marshal Josef Stalin announced in one of three special orders of the day trumpeting the latest series of Soviet successes.

124-GUN SALUTE

Six defence lines consisting of pillboxes, armored forts, concrete fortifications and minefields were overwhelmed in the four-day battle for Dukhovschina, a communique announced. Stalin ordered a 124-gun salute.

Northeast of Kiev, the Russians reached the Desna River southeast of Chernigov and were less than 160 miles from the pre-1939 Russian-Polish border. Chernigov itself appeared doomed to early capture following the seizure of Arnisovo, 2½ miles to the east.

At some points northeast of Kiev, The Russians were only 35

Name J. A. Bell To Labor Board

OTTAWA, Sept. 20.—(CP)—John A. Bell, chairman of the general adjustments committee of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, was appointed today to the national war labor board to succeed temporarily J. L. Cohen, K.C., whose membership was terminated by the federal cabinet.

Mr. Bell, a resident of Toronto, has been prominent in Canadian labor activities for many years. He is a member of the National War Labor Board Advisory committee and is also a member of the National Selective Service Administration Advisory committee. His appointment to the board was announced from the office of Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

The temporary nature of Mr. Bell's appointment was not explained in Mr. King's announcement, which said merely that he had been appointed "pro tempore" to succeed Mr. Cohen.

University of Alberta Confers Honorary Degree Upon Governor-General

Honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon His Excellency the Earl of Athlone Monday afternoon, at special convocation exercises held at the University of Alberta. The ceremony, which bestowed the degree from the university, was attended by H.R.H. the Princess Alice, and ranking government, civic, and educational leaders.

Dr. Robert Newton, university president, presented His Excellency for admission to the degree, which was conferred by Mr. Justice Frank Ford, university chancellor. Invocation was pronounced by Rev. W. M. Nainby, rector of Holy Trinity Anglican church.

In receiving the degree, His Excellency became fifth governor-general to be so honored by the university. Degrees in the past have been bestowed upon the Rt. Hon. Duke of Devonshire, Gen. the Rt. Hon. Baron Byng of Vimy, Rt. Hon. Viscount Willingdon, and the Earl of Bessborough, while they have held office as the King's representative in Canada. Included among others who have received the degree are H.R.H. the Duke of Windsor and former Prince of Wales.

Liberal Meetings to Plan Reorganization; Prepare For Next General Election

OTTAWA, Sept. 20.—(CP)—Reorganization of the National Liberal Federation and the launching of a program looking toward betterment of the party's chances of success in the next Dominion election will be subjects of discussion at meetings here this week and next.

On Friday Prime Minister Mackenzie King will preside at a caucus of his supporters in the senate and the house of commons, and on Monday, Sept. 27, the federation will open its first meeting since the outbreak of war, with seven voting delegates expected from each province.

Caucus members are expected to remain in Ottawa to take part in the general discussions at the federation meeting, and many others, not official delegates, are expected to come to Ottawa for the reorganization talks.

Hon. Norman McLarty, secretary of state, is acting president of the federation and issued the call for the federation meeting.

ELECTION EXPECTED

In some quarters, it is taken as an indication that a federal election will be held shortly but the information available from sources close to the government is that there is little likelihood of an election this year.

Gen. Clark Visits Salerno Front

WITH THE AMERICAN FIFTH ARMY, Italy, Sept. 19.—(Delayed)—Gen. Mark W. Clark today visited the centre of the Salerno beachhead where Allied advances have been made on a wide front the last two days and told one of his officers: "I am certainly proud of the way these men stood up against counter-attacks and have come right back fighting harder than ever."

Riding in a jeep through a mine field strewn with dead animals and the bodies of Germans, the Fifth Army commander not only inspected Allied outposts but also went into two cities which had been taken and examined the damage.

He discussed military problems with British and American commanding officers in the field, including leaders of several patrols he met while they were trying to contact the Germans.

Fleet Reported

Allied Thrust In Balkans Is Seen Imminent

By ERNEST AGNEW

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(AP)—An Allied war fleet was reported steaming up the Aegean Sea off the west coast of Turkey today, stirring new talk on an imminent lunge into the Balkans.

Italian refugees reaching Turkey reported the presence of the large concentration of war vessels and London morning newspapers quoted them as saying that Allied forces had occupied the island of Castelrosso, most southerly of the Dodecanese group four miles from the Turkish coast and 90 miles east of Rhodes.

These refugee reports were linked in London with similar accounts four days ago of Allied occupation of the islands of Samos, Leros and Kos, all in the Dodecanese north of Rhodes, and with the reported departure of Britain's 9th Army from middle east bases.

ITALIANS OUT-MANOEUVRED

Rhodes itself, largest island in the group, was reported last week to be under German control after the Nazis overcame the Italian garrison in several days of bloody fighting.

Refugees estimated that 25,000 Italians on Rhodes were out-

Nazi Retreat From Salerno Said Underway

tions already undertaken by the Allies with the seizure of Procida and Ischia islands to the west of Naples.

On the northeast shore of the peninsula lie the Castellammare naval yard.

Pushing inland on a broad front, the Fifth Army seized new territory in the hills north of Battipaglia, 14 miles southeast of Salerno. Fighting was on a small scale, however, compared with that of last week. At least 40 German tanks have ben captured or destroyed since the start of the invasion on Sept. 9.

Reinforcements of men, guns, tanks and supplies continued to pour ashore all along the Salerno bridgehead and the British-Canadian Eighth Army was moving northward in force for a joint march on Naples, Rome and northern Italy.

SLIGHT ADVANCES

The British Fifth Corps in southern Italy made slight advances, the communique said, wiping out a pocket of resistance at Gioia, 28 miles northwest of Taranto, and capturing the town.

The Allies over the week-end also were given a springboard for an invasion of Corsica, southern France or new points on the Italian south coast when Italians on Sardinia turned on their former German comrades and routed them from the island.

Sardinia, a 9,200-square mile island, has air and naval installations within easy striking distance of Rome or France and is only 75 miles from the southern tip of Corsica. With the island in friendly hands, the Allied line in this section of the Mediterranean is advanced more than 250 miles north from the African coast.

The German radio reported the evacuation of Sardinia "according to plan." The German navy, it said, systematically evacuated all German troops and war material from Sardinia despite small shipping space and a rough sea.

It also was revealed belatedly that the islands of Ischia and Procida, the latter only 12 miles from the centre of Naples, on the northern approaches to the Gulf of Naples, were seized for the Allies by Italian ships and crews accompanied by a lone British naval officer.

ITALO PLANES ESCAPE

Another Allied announcement reported that a considerable fleet of Italian aircraft that escaped from the Germans had arrived safely at various Allied airfields during the past 10 days and more were still expected. All Italian pilots complained against German management of their fields and all wanted to get into the air to fight their former Allies.

A dispatch from Reynolds Packard, British United Press war correspondent with the Fifth Army, reported that the Germans pulled out of some sections of the Salerno front with such haste that they left large numbers of their dead unburied.

American burial patrols, supervised by a chaplain and composed of service troops, went out into No Man's Land, gave the dead a Christian burial and erected crosses over their graves. German prisoners also indicated that the Nazis had begun a withdrawal.

Front reports said there may be a pause in operations before the Allies launch an all-out drive on Naples to await the building of the Eighth Army to full strength after its 200-mile march up the Italian west coast from the southern tip of the Calabrian peninsula.

Medium and heavy bombers of the Northwest African Air Forces took a rest Sunday, but British and Canadian Wellingtons scored hits on the approaches to a vital railway at Benevento over the Calore river.

Two enemy planes were shot down during the 24-hour period ended last night, while three Allied planes were lost.

War Correspondent Again in Action Following Illness

ALGIERS, Sept. 20.—(CP)—Ross Munro, Canadian Press war correspondent, is back in the field in Italy after being knocked out for a week by tropical fever and exertion.

Munro, who scored a world news beat on the invasion of Sicily July 10, won praise of his fellow-correspondents by covering the arduous 36-day campaign without aid, never missing his daily story. He was laid up two days with fever late in August.

On the invasion of Italy Sept. 3 Munro again was the first correspondent to get a story to the world. But less than a week later he eabled he was tired out, suffering from fever, and must turn over the job to William Stewart, CP war correspondent with him in Italy.

miles from the Ukrainian capital. A frontal attack also appeared near following the capture of Priluki, 70 miles to the east.

Elsewhere along the 750-mile offensive front from Smolensk to the Sea of Azov, the Russians captured Zherebets, only 26 miles east of Zaporozhe on the big bend of the Dnieper River bend; the big railroad junction of Krasnograd on the northern approaches to Dnieprepetrovsk and Kremenchug, and Trubchevsk, 50 miles southwest of Bryansk.

FAST PACE

Between Trubchevsk and Kiev, the Russians were pursuing the Germans at such a fast pace that Nazi armored equipment was being seized intact in wholesale lots. German prisoners were being rounded up by the hundreds.

The Soviets also were squeezing tighter the German bridgehead in the northwest Caucasus. Novorossisk, eight miles northwest of Novorossisk, was seized, cutting the German path of retreat toward the escape port of Anapa, 17 miles away, and Verkhne-Bakanskie, 18 miles east of Anapa, was captured.

tled at the caucus on Friday or at the federation meetings the following week.

However, those close to the government say an election will not be held until well into next year, and that a chaplain and composition of service troops, went out into No Man's Land, gave the dead a Christian burial and erected crosses over their graves. German prisoners also indicated that the Nazis had begun a withdrawal.

party would be likely desire a year to build up its organization and carry on an educational campaign among the electors.

Nearly 200 senators and members are expected here for the caucus and perhaps as many more for the federation meeting at which a new, permanent executive may be appointed.

PLAN MORE SPEECHES

It is expected that one recommendation from the meetings here will be for the prime minister and his ministers to make more political speeches from Canada's platforms, and particularly that Mr. King himself find time for more personal contact with the electors.

Legal life of the present parliament runs until the spring of 1945, and speculation could be rife for some time within six months after dissolution.

Thus the administration could remain in office another full two years without any extension of the statutory terms.

What impressed me most about this great engineering project was not only the technical skill and the imagination which have made it possible, but the fact that our friends to the south have come along and with their great energy and enthusiasm and knowledge have worked side by side with their Canadian neighbors in making a strategic highway for the defence of this continent in war and for the development of its resources in peace.

Their work and our work has been for the mutual benefit of both the United States and Canada, and I think, one of the most outstanding examples of practical international co-operation which has emerged from the trials and tribulations of the last few years.

We passed through the Peace River country, and I doubt if there is any part of the world more happily named, for it is a country of rolling downs, and fertile soil, and green pastures. And if it had not to it has been underpopulated and inadequately developed, I feel certain that its future is assured, for it lies on the threshold of the rich lands to the North and cannot fail to benefit from the development of these lands.

VAST TERRITORY

When I look back on that vast territory which stretches from here to the Arctic, I am filled with admiration for the early pioneers who penetrated to its interior not so very long ago. They were men of stout hearts and strong wills and tremendous physical energy. With few mechanical devices and with little to guide them but their own adventurous spirit, they broke the

Mr. Chancellor, Ladies and Gentlemen:

My first and most pleasant duty is to thank you for the degree which you have so kindly conferred on me. I can assure you that it is an honor of which I am deeply conscious, and I prize it not merely only as a link with this seat of learning, but also as a permanent association with this part of Canada.

CONTINUOUS PROCESS

Education is a continuous process. It goes on all one's life, and the older one gets, the more one realizes how much there is to learn. It is impossible for anyone to absorb even a fraction of the knowledge an educated man should possess during the few years generally regarded as devoted to education. During the last two weeks, for instance, I have learnt a tremendous amount about your province and the men and women who live there.

It is, I think, not unfitting that at the end of my journey I should visit this university and pay a tribute to its great work and its contribution toward the development of the Canadian northwest. In fact, I am glad to think that I am still being educated—by degrees.

TELLS OF TRAVELS

It is usual for a new graduate on these occasions to deliver a convocation address—something in the nature of a solemn thesis on some abstract subject. It is not my intention to follow this practice, but rather to tell you something of our recent travels, and then perhaps I may suggest, as briefly as possible, one or two ways in which a University such as this can contribute to the rapid opening up of the new lands which lie to your north, and I shall try to point out the important role which the members of this university have to play in that development.

My wife and I left Prince Rupert about three weeks ago and travelled by boat along that wonderful coastline which runs between there and Skagway in Alaska. On our way we had the pleasure of meeting the governor of Alaska, whose hospitality and kindness will be one of the most delightful memories of our journey. From Skagway we went by train to Whitehorse, where we were most kindly received by General O'Connor, of the United States Army. From Whitehorse we went by air to Fairbanks in the centre of Alaska. I wonder what the old pioneers would have said if they had known that the hard-worn and romantic trail which they had trod would soon be covered rapidly and comfortably in an airplane. From Whitehorse we returned by air along the whole length of the new Alaska Highway, stopping at various places en route.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

crust over the store-house of riches which lies below the surface. Theirs is the glory in which we of this mechanical age must pay warm and whole-hearted tribute. But just as in military matters, courage and the soldierly qualities are nowadays not enough without the help of science and mechanical equipment, so in the future development of your northern country, science must be wedded to the pioneering spirit.

RIGHT TYPE

It is, I think, within the realm of a university situated at the very portals of this great expanse of undeveloped country, to provide men and women of the right type who will bring to bear on the many problems that will confront them, trained and agile minds. That is a great opportunity and a great responsibility for a university such as this. Future expansion will no doubt require the guidance of trained and educated men and women, and the problems will have to be faced with the quick analytical skill of agile minds.

There will be an urged call for men and women who will have been trained to think in straight lines. When the war is over, the fundamental question will be how people are going to live, and the solution of that problem will depend on the establishment of the correct relationship between the State and Industry. You young men and women will have to solve that problem. You will have to reconcile the proper intervention of the State to protect the public good, for as William Beveridge 'everybody has bread before anybody has cake,' with the preservation of the essential individual liberties—freedom of speech and of opinion; freedom of political association; freedom to earn one's living and to save it or spend it as one likes; freedom of worship; freedom of occupation; and freedom of movement.

FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

We are fighting this war to avoid having these freedoms taken away from us, and our sacrifices would be in vain if we surrendered them as soon as the war was over. You will have to solve three main domestic problems in the first is how to prevent widespread unemployment. The second is how to increase industry's productive efficiency. And the third is how to distribute, widely and equitably, the products of our growing industries.

Here in Edmonton you will come right up against these problems. They are not going to be solved by mere political manipulation or by complete absence of state control. The only criterion is going to be the interests of the community as a whole and not the interests of any particular group or indeed, of any particular country. But I would impress upon you that in dealing with these great problems, you will get nowhere if you think solely in terms of material gain. Our people must have a living in the things of the spirit, for if our post-war reconstruction is not founded on spiritual ideals, then the bitter how great our victory in war, we shall in the long run have suffered a moral and spiritual defeat.

GREAT OPPORTUNITY

That is a lesson which it is the peculiar privilege of a university such as this to drive home.

Here you have a great opportunity for creating the powerful and beneficient influence of sound learning and you can also demonstrate how sound learning must be based on sure spiritual and moral foundations.

That was the magnificent contribution to the world of the old universities in Europe, but whenever the lessons which came out from behind their venerable walls were disregarded. Europe and the world were plunged into suffering and disaster. The light had grown dim, and the way was overgrown with confusion and false ideals. We shall look more and more to the Universities in the future to keep the light burning bright, and nowhere will that be more important than in regions where expansion is expected to be on a rapid and materialistic scale. The impulse for material gain will be strong, but it is an impulse which educated men and women all over the world must strive to resist.

In conclusion quote the words of a Yugoslav who lost his life in guerilla warfare against the Germans. This is what he wrote to his unborn son:

"Keep your wonder at great and noble things, like sunlight and thunder, the rain and the stars, the wind and the sea; the growth of trees and the return of harvests, and the greatness of heroes. Keep your hatred of a lie, and keep your power of indignation."

Hon. Mr. Justice Frank Ford, chancellor of the University of Alberta, in conferring the degree on His Excellency, said:

Your Excellency will, I am sure, permit me to say, in the name of the University, how pleased we are that Her Royal Highness and you have found it convenient on your present tour to visit this institution of learning and to hear something of the effort being put forth here to aid the common cause against the powers of darkness and oppression and to see what is going on around our Campus.

GREAT PLEASURE

It is a great pleasure to us all that Your Excellency has honored this young University by agreeing to permit it to confer upon you an honorary degree, thus making you a member of our Convocation.

We are mindful that the honor you confer upon us exceeds that which we can bestow.

Many of us have followed your career as soldier and statesman and are highly appreciative of the outstanding successes you have made, especially in the Union of South Africa and in our Dominion of Canada.

Your interest in Canada antedates not only the establishment of this University, but of the Province of Alberta of which it is the child.

HAPPY MEMORIES

It is now 42 years since you accompanied the father of our gracious King when as the Duke of York he, with our beloved Queen Mother, then Duchess of York, visited Canada. We know that from that time on your interest in Canada, its unity and its place in the British Empire or Commonwealth of Nations has never flagged.

And now, Your Excellency, in recognition of your illustrious public services I desire on behalf of this University to confer, and I now confer, upon you the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws and respectfully ask you to sign our Roll of Honorary Doctors and then to address this convocation.

Gen. Marshall Warns Against Delaying Draft

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. — (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall told the senate and house of representatives military committees today that if the United States congress interrupts the steady flow of men into the armed forces "we will suffer a much greater loss than we anticipate from the German submarine."

Asserting that the American armed forces have reached their peak of training and are poised for aggressive deployment all over the world, the chief-of-staff said he was puzzled "by the reaction at this time."

It seemed to him, Gen. Marshall said, that if congress stepped in to interrupt the flow of men through selective service "all we can do is reduce our program and change our strategy."

CROWDED HEARING

With Admiral Ernest J. King, commander of the fleet, sitting beside him, Gen. Marshall testified before a jammed hearing room on a bill by Senator Burton Wheeler (Dem.-Mont.) to postpone until after Jan. 1 the induction of men who were fathers before the United States entered the war.

Gen. Marshall said that the army plans to activate soon between 430 and 440 new battalions, adding that four divisions now had only 1,500 men each and needed an additional 14,000 each.

He said 50,000 special troops, including engineers, mechanics and signal corps men, were being shipped to Britain this month, along with 600 bombers. These he added, he said, were not to increase the weight of bomber participation but to maintain the operation of bombers already there.

NEED REINFORCEMENTS

For the first time in history, Gen. Marshall said, trained men are on hand for deployment on all of the fronts of the world, adding that now major problems are largely a matter of maintenance and replacements of casualties and other losses.

Marshall said it was necessary to keep stand-by troops on hand in the United States to meet the demands from various theatres of war.

He said 75,000 additional inductees were needed monthly to keep the armed forces as far and to bring the army to the goal of 7,700,000 by the end of the year.

Gen. Marshall said there is no way of estimating battle casualties accurately.

As an example of the necessity of a reserve of well-trained troops, Marshall said that the first division of American soldiers to land in Salerno "had never been in battle before."

Hundreds of Italians were reported to have joined the guerilla bands, with all receiving ammunition, food and clothing regularly and in some cases fighting with the support of Allied air power.

Meanwhile, the Daily Sketch reported that high Italian officials had gone to Ankara with the hope of contacting Allied diplomats and sounding them on Russia's future if the should break with Germany and get out of the war.

All-Out Peace Effort Urged Following War

GRANBY, Que., Sept. 20.—(CP)—Paul Martin, Liberal member of parliament for Essex East and parliamentary assistant to Labor Minister Mitchell, said yesterday that following the termination of hostilities Canada's all-out war effort must become an all-out peace effort "based on the same co-operation and willingness to sacrifice."

In an address prepared for delivery at the annual convention of the confederation of Catholic workers Mr. Martin endorsed the principles of collective bargaining and called on union organizations to settle their jurisdiction disputes between themselves.

SOCIAL INSURANCE

Mr. Martin said he looked forward to the day "and very soon," when Canada would have a social insurance plan broad enough to take in old age, unemployment, invalidity, accident, health, all in one contributory scheme.

In preparation for the post-war period when for some time there was likely to be an over-abundant labor supply, Mr. Martin advocated every province raising its minimum school-leaving age to 15 or 16 years and providing agricultural and technical training on a broadened scale.

In addition he proposed requiring young workers who have engaged in industry to attend day classes on a part-time basis. Education, he said, was the most fundamental of the measures toward social security.

Mr. Martin said he had long believed in the principle of collective bargaining and the use of the state's authority to bring employers to recognize unions and the right of labor to bargain collectively. This opinion had been strengthened by his position as parliamentary assistant to the labor minister.

LABOR POLICIES

"Labor management co-operation should be encouraged. Management should do well to realize this," he said.

"Reaction must be disledged," he continued. "Hes the war not taught us that by maintaining a high national income we can give our people work?"

"I am not so much concerned about labor as I am about getting things done, and one of the things that I, as a public man, will not stand for is a system that is not able to provide work."

Allied Thrust In Balkans Is Seen Imminent

manoeuvred and crushed by 5,000 Germans supported by dive-bombers from German-held Crete to the southwest.

An early cleanup of all German forces in the Dodecanese chain was anticipated in London, Allied by mounting air activity and the surrender of the Italian fleet removed most of the danger from the sea and virtually blocked reinforcements to the enemy.

The Germans, apparently anticipating a probable Allied thrust into the Balkans, were reported by London morning newspapers as still rushing troops into southeastern Europe.

NAZI REINFORCEMENTS

These reports said troops were being shipped into Salonika for eventual reinforcement of the garrison on the Aegean island defending and that all Greek vessels, even light fishing craft, had been commandeered for transportation of supplies to the islands.

In the Balkans proper, the German occupying forces now are confronted by a powerful guerilla led by Gen. Draja Mihailovichwn an Islanbul dispatch said.

Hundreds of Italians were reported to have joined the guerilla bands, with all receiving ammunition, food and clothing regularly and in some cases fighting with the support of Allied air power.

Meanwhile, the Daily Sketch reported that high Italian officials had gone to Ankara with the hope of contacting Allied diplomats and sounding them on Russia's future if the should break with Germany and get out of the war.

Colombo Sounds First Night Alert

COLOMBO, Ceylon, Sept. 20. — (CP) — Colombo experienced its first night alert when a hostile plane, apparently on reconnaissance, approached the city early today. No bombs were dropped. Colombo is the site of a naval base on the British island of Ceylon off the lower tip of India.

Churchill Travels by Ship For North American Talks

By SYD THOMAS

HALIFAX, Sept. 20.—(CP)—This old seaport has guarded many wartime secrets, but perhaps none as significant as it has burstifighly held the last few weeks—the story of Prime Minister Winston Churchill's arrival and departure from North American shores during the course of his recent visit.

Now that the British leader is back in Britain after his five-week round of conferences and discussions, the story of his Atlantic voyaging can be told.

The prime minister arrived here one evening early in August aboard a giant British transport, and immediately boarded a waiting special train bound for Quebec.

From there his arrival was announced next morning as he passed into Quebec for his now historic conferences with President Roosevelt and other United Nations leaders.

SECRET WELL KEPT

The secret has been well kept until now. The general impression had been that he travelled by plane.

The jovial "Winnie" left Halifax last week aboard the big battle cruiser H.M.S. Renown. But he didn't leave these shores without treating on a brief tour of this oldest English garrison city of Canada.

His short and speedy run through the city will live long in the memories of those fortunate enough to catch a glimpse of the portly figure with the everpresent cigar, or better still who were favored with a handshake.

Canada's navy minister, Angus L. MacDonald, met the prince minister on his arrival here in August, while Vice-Admiral P. A. Nelles and Rear Admiral L. W. Murray, commander-in-chief of the Canadian Northwest Atlantic, and other high officials were present. On the way back the minister, Admiral Murray and a large party were on hand to say goodbye.

FEW KNEW OF ARRIVAL

When the prime minister arrived here on a special train last week, few knew he was coming, and the area was closed off so none could enter without good reason.

Only a few railway workers, clerks, and women cleaners in slacks or work-a-day dresses lined up behind the red-coated Mounties on guard. A few servicemen from offices in the area completed the audience.

Flanked by his aides, Churchill stalked down the platform to the sheds beside the waiting warship. He wore a navy uniform, and was boisterously happily-looking with a fresh cigar clenched between his teeth.

Canada Launches Twelve Vessels For New Record

By The Canadian Press

In the biggest day in Canada's shipbuilding history, 12 ships were launched at Saturday, ranging from the Dominion's first home-built destroyer to a Fairmile patrol-boat and three tugs.

The destroyer slipped into salt water at Halifax. She was H.M.C.S. Micmac, largest ship of war ever launched from a Canadian yard and another in Canada's growing fleet of tribal class destroyers.

Lesser warships slid down the ways in other centres, including two frigates, a corvette, a minesweeper and a naval lanker. Launching of 10,000-ton merchantmen at Montreal and Sorel, Que., completed the events of "Ships for Victory Day."

Badoglio Uses Auto and Ship To Escape Huns

By WES GALLAGHER

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio escaped from Rome a few hours before the Germans took over the city and made his way to Allied territory by automobile and ship, an American official who talked with Badoglio disclosed today.

The American, who cannot be more definitely identified for the moment, said Badoglio gave this version of his escape:

After announcing the armistice terms to the Italian people on Sept. 8, Badoglio ordered that the German troops around the capital planned to take it over and to take himself and King Victor Emmanuel into custody.

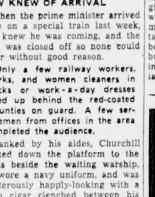

MAKES UP CARAVAN

Badoglio and his military advisers took a large number of government automobiles and made up a caravan in the early hours before dawn Sept. 9. The caravan left Rome at 5 a.m. and sped to a port on the coast.

There the entire party boarded an Italian ship and in broad daylight sailed down the Italian coast and into Allied occupied territory. The Germans apparently at no time were close to the party.

The true story of the escape differed completely from the version given out by the German radio which said the Badoglio party had made its way to a town a short distance from Florence. There it had been surrounded by German troops, but a small group had succeeded in escaping by plane from an Italian-held airport.

Germans Routed From Sardinia

By DONALD COE

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, Sept. 20.—Sardinia, a 9,200-square-mile island with air and naval bases within easy striking distance of Rome and the south coast of France, has gone to the United Nations without the firing of a single Allied shot.

Two Italian divisions on the island attacked and routed German troops on Sardinia, then advised Allied headquarters that they were in possession, an official announcement said. The Fleeing Germans were believed to have joined other Nazi elements on Corsica, only 7½ miles to the north.

Italian troops on Corsica have joined French patriots in fighting the Germans, a London broadcast said. It credited the French with capturing the west coast port of Ajaccio, while reinforced German troops seized the northeastern portion of Bastia.)

ANOTHER ITALIAN AID

Another Italian contribution to the Allied cause was disclosed in a front dispatch from the Salerno area that told how Italian naval units accompanied by a single British naval officer, took over Ischia and Procida off the northern entrance to the Gulf of Naples. Procida is only 12 miles from the center of Naples.

Seven Italian ships were found at Capri, south of Naples, when Allied forces occupied that island earlier in the week. The crews were so insistent that they be allowed to fight the Germans as part of the British navy that they were permitted to go to Ischia and Procida to secure them against the Germans.

The transfer of Sardinia to the Allies advanced the Anglo-American line in this section of the Mediterranean more than 250 miles, giving them a springboard for a landing in Corsica and bases which will enable fighters to escort bombers in raids along the vital Marseilles-Toulon-Italian frontier which the Germans must keep open if their troops in Italy are to be kept fully supplied.

70,000 Serbs Killed by Nazis Near Belgrade

Radio station YTG, believed to be operated by patriots in Yugoslavia, has sent the following dispatch to the British United Press. —EDITOR.

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copyright, 1943, by British United Press

Nazi occupation authorities massacred 70,000 Serbs up to the end of July and buried many of them in common graves near Belgrade, the Democratic Yugoslavia News Agency reported today.

Victims of the Germans were said to have been placed in big pits near the village of Yavinci in an effort to wipe out signs of the wholesale slaughter.

The news agency said the Nazis, finding themselves in an increasingly difficult situation in the Balkans, had promised Serbian independence after the war in return for co-operation at the present time. Gen. Milan Nedich, quisling premier of Serbia, was reported to have flown to Germany last week for his first conference with Adolf Hitler, who was said to have promised personally to grant Serbian independence.

NAZIS USE SPIES

The news agency reported that the Nazi Gestapo had sent men and women spies throughout Yugoslavia. In an effort to break up underground activities of Gen. Draja Mikhailovitch's guerillas. Many of the secret agents were Germans born in Yugoslavia.

"Owing to the excellent knowledge of our language of these spies, General Mikhailovitch's men have been exposed to great danger and a considerable number of them perished," the agency asserted.

A counter espionage organization was set up by the patriots, however, and many of the Nazi spies have lost their lives in trains, in their apartments, in coffee houses and on the streets, it was said.

Since Bismarck's accession to power in 1862, Germany has fought six wars of aggression.

British Prisoners Taken to Germany From North Italy

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(CP)—The German propaganda agency Transocean, said yesterday British prisoners in war camps in Central and Northern Italy have been taken over by the Germans and that most of them have been sent to Germany. The broadcast, heard by the Associated Press, said that in a number of cases Italians had opened the gates to prisoners of war, but that most of those who gained their liberty had been rounded up.

Badoglio Now Safe Behind Allies' Lines

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio is on the Allied side of the battle lines in Italy, Allied headquarters announced yesterday.

He gave the orders to oust the Germans from Sardinia after reaching Allied-held soil and the garrison obeyed, it was disclosed.

In agreement with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, he also used units of the Italian fleet to help in the operation.

Badoglio has been on Allied-held Italian soil since the Germans occupied strategic points in Rome the day after his armistice proclamation Sept. 8.

(This dispatch did not mention King Victor Emmanuel but there have been indications that the king also escaped from the Germans.)

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The announcement that Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio is safe behind Allies lines raised fresh obstacles last night to the embattled Germans on the Italian peninsula.

Fighting between Italians and the Nazis continued in the Milan and Turin areas, it was reported, despite a radio appeal Saturday, purporting to come from Mussolini, to renew the fight against the Allies.

Obviously worried over Badoglio's plans, the Berlin radio asserted that he had gone to North Africa to enroll Italian prisoners into the Allied ranks and declared that such recruitment violated international law.

MAY DECLARE WAR

The reappearance of Badoglio strengthened a London impression that his government might declare war on Germany.

Saturday's radio appeal to Italians, supposedly from Mussolini, to return to the Axis fold, described in the Berliner Lokalanzeiger yesterday as "the Duce's fighting speech after his liberation," appeared to have had little effect on the Italian population.

Reports of continued resistance to the Nazis came from Swiss and Spanish sources and it was declared that the Germans had been forced to seize practically all Italian railroads and the Turin and Milan area movement in the occupied zones.

The Berlin radio itself acknowledged that the Germans had occupied the Swiss-Italian border crossing of Ponte Chiasso Sunday morning and are controlling all important points across the frontier. The Germans said all traffic has been stopped between Italy and Switzerland.

The union of anti-Fascist parties in Milan was said to be inciting Italians to border resistance against the Nazis and Swiss reports also said that Italian patriots led by army officers had organized a large scale sabotage campaign against German works in the Rome region.

Anglican Prelate Reaches Moscow

MOSCOW, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The Archbishop of York, wearing a purple cassock and four-peaked mitre, arrived at a Moscow airport yesterday as the representative of the Church of England to visit the hierarchy of the Russian Orthodox Church.

A delegation of the Orthodox Church, including the Metropolitan Nikolai of Kiev and the Archbishop Sergei of Gorky, met him at the plane in the name of the Metropolitan Sergei of Moscow, the newly-elected patriarch of all Russia.

Emerging from the passenger plane the prelate embraced the representatives of the Orthodox church.

The Archbishop replied: "I bring you and your nation the greetings of our church. I rejoice in the election of your patriarch. I look forward to meeting him in the coming days and having many conversations with him."

Continued Naval Construction in Halifax Expected

HALIFAX, Sept. 20.—(CP)—Belief that naval construction would continue at Halifax for some time was expressed by navy minister Angus L. Macdonald Saturday at a luncheon in connection with the launching of the new Canadian destroyer Micmac.

"So long as a navy is necessary on the sea to protect our commerce and coastline, then I feel naval ships will be built in this city," the minister said.

Mr. Macdonald said he was confident the Micmac would be on active service within nine months. "In spite of fears expressed by some as to the time we would have to spend in building this ship," he said, "my judgment is that the Micmac will be fighting in battle in just the same time it would take to finish ships of her kind in British yards."

(The Micmac was laid down 17 months ago.)

Arrest Officers

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The French radio at Dakar said yesterday in a broadcast recorded by CBS that former French army officers are being arrested by the Germans in provinces bordering Italy on suspicion of having joined the underground resistance movement.

New Coward Ditty Infuriates Britons

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Noel Coward has set Britain by the ears with a new song called "Don't Let's Be Beastly to the Germans."

The trouble is that all of them, the idolaters and the scoffers alike, think that they are being laughed at.

Sentimentalists and humanitarians are as infuriated as those who believe that the German people themselves, share with their leaders responsibility for the war.

Left-wingers and rightists, service men and women and civilians, writers and your ordinary radio listener have given the debonair playright-composer-singer such a tongue-lashing that he may be just as well pleased he's in the Middle East under auspices of the ministry of information.

When the author went on the air with the song the fuss began.

BBC GETS "JOLT"

The sobriety and the studied moderation of the BBC got a jolt when Coward, in his best satirical manner, counselled in crooning accents, "Don't let's be beastly to the Germans when our victory is ultimately won." Listeners gaped when they heard the musical invective which included such epithets as "swine" and "rats" and use of the word "Nazi" which the BBC seldom will permit in its news broadcasts.

The song concluded with this verse, which is quoted by permission of the publishers, Chappell and Company:

"Don't let's be beastly to the Germans, for you can't deprive a gangster of his gun.

Though they've been a little naughty to the Czechs and Poles and Dutch, I don't suppose those countries really mind it very much.

Let's be free with them and share the BBC with them; we mustn't prevent them basking in the sun.

Let's soften their defeat again and build their bloody fleet again, but don't let's be beastly to the Hun."

The distraught BBC quickly issued a disclaimer of responsibility for the song's expressed sentiments. People argued about the song in saloons, hotel lobbies, and in their homes.

CLEVER BUT NASTY

Tom Harrison, radio critic of the Observer, London Sunday newspaper, called the song "clever and witty, but nasty, too, a reductio ad absurdum of the theme that all Germans adore war and that those of us who distrust a peace of vengeance are crazy folks wanting to

"Let them feel they're swell again,
And bomb us all to hell again'."

Anyhow, it is a good guess that the quarrelling will not have subsided by the time Coward returns from Africa where he has been entertaining troops in camps, hospitals and bases.

Stricken Woman Still "Unchanged"

HARDISTY, Alta., Sept. 20—(CP)—Condition of Mrs. Frank Oxford, 25, seriously ill in hospital here with an abdominal streptococcic infection which followed childbirth, last night was described as "unchanged" by hospital authorities. The 25-year-old Amisk, Alta., woman has shown improvement since arrival from Toronto of the new "wonder" drug, penicillin.

A second parcel of penicillin arrived here by plane and train from Toronto Saturday, a few hours before the first shipment of the bacteria-killing drug was exhausted.

Physicians made arrangements through Ottawa to get release of the drug from a penicillin "bank" at Toronto last Monday when her condition suddenly turned worse. It arrived late Wednesday and the first injection was made the same night.

Hardisty is 140 miles southeast of Edmonton.

Bomber, Glider Claimed Downed

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The Germans claimed in their communique yesterday that a four-engined bomber and a big glider in tow had been shot down over the Atlantic Saturday by long-range German fighters.

Duce Outlines New Program For Italians

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(CP)—A D.N.B. broadcast of a speech attributed to Benito Mussolini quoted the former Italian dictator Saturday as accusing King Victor Emmanuel of plotting surrender to the Allies and announcing a four-point program for his new Republican Fascism, including the taking up of arms again at the side of Germany.

The broadcast quoted Mussolini as declaring he was carried away in a Red Cross car from the steps of the king's private home on July 25, the day when he was ousted from office, and rescued on Sept. 11 by parachutists of his "brother," Hitler.

OUTLINES PLANS

Outlining his plans, the radio quoted him as offering these four purposes:

"1. Take up arms again by the side of Germany and Japan.

"2. Reorganize at once the armed forces and militia.

"3. Eliminate traitors, particularly those who went over to the enemy.

"4 Make an end to plutocratic methods and establish social and Fascist order."

"A man who served his king absolutely loyally for more than 20 years, was forced to enter a Red Cross car under the pretext of wanting to rescue him from conspiracy, and was taken from one barracks to another at great speed," D.N.B. quoted him as saying.

"I was under the impression that this protection was actually unsafe," the broadcast continued.

Referring to the events of July 25, D.N.B. quoted him as saying:

"In my very adventurous life, the most incredible of all adventures happened to me."

DECISION TAKEN

"My conversation with the king lasted 20 minutes or even less. It was impossible to arrive at an understanding since he had already taken his decision.

"The outbreak of crisis was impending.

"I was taken from Rome to Ponza, and my suspicion became a certainty when I was taken to the island of La Maddalena (off Sardinia) from there to Gran Sasso according to a plan which provided for my being handed over to the enemy.

"I thought out off from the world. I had a sure feeling that the fuehrer would look after my person as a brother."

The agency quoted him as saying that a high official had informed him that he was a hostage but he swore that "the enemy would never get hold of me alive."

Referring to his rescue by the Germans at Gran Sasso, a mountain resort about 70 miles northeast of Rome, on Sept. 11, Mussolini was quoted as saying:

"It was about 14 o'clock (2 p.m. when I saw the first parachutist coming down, who was followed by others who were resolved to break any resistance. My guards realized that and did not fire.

HAPPENED QUICKLY

"Everything happened within five minutes. The liberation, the whole enterprise, was an example of organization and resolution of the Germans which will live in history. It will in the future become legendary."

That, Mussolini was quoted as saying, ended a chapter that might be called "my personal drama."

D.N.B. quoted him as saying, however, that his personal experience "was nothing compared with the terrible tragedy which democratic government caused to the Italian nation on July 25."

The program of the Badoglio government after that date, he was quoted as saying, "aimed at delaying the work of 20 years and at extinguishing 20 years of glory in order to eliminate the recollection of the creation of the empire and of a rank such as the Fatherland never had before."

Churchill Is Back Home Following War Conferences

By EDWARD D. BALL

LONDON, Sept. 20—(AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill, bearing the secrets of the Quebec and Washington conferences, returned home last night and plunged into preparation of a report to parliament on his talks with President Roosevelt covering the whole of the global situation, both military and diplomatic.

Mrs. Churchill, subaltern Mary Churchill, his daughter, and Brendan Bracken, British minister of information, came with him.

The Prime Minister will open a two-day debate at a forth-coming reconvening of parliament, although much of what happened on the other side of the Atlantic following his arrival in Canada on Aug. 10 must remain untold, he will give a general account for which the ears of the world will be attuned.

VICTORY THEME

The Italian surrender, which came during Mr. Churchill's absence of six weeks, will provide the victory theme for his speech. At the same time, his appearance in commons after his longest wartime absence from the country will give him an opportunity to answer critics who have been sharpshooting at allied strategy in Italy.

In the diplomatic field it is expected he will shed more light on Anglo-American-Russian relations and the projected three-power conference for which the groundwork is reported to have been laid.

Britons look forward to learning more details of the armistice with Premier Marshal Badoglio and the events leading up to it.

It was considered likely he would reply to those who have been asking questions about the lull between the time of the overthrow of Benito Mussolini and the invasion of the mainland; why the attack was not made farther up the peninsula and why Hitler could come to the rescue of Mussolini before the Allies had laid hands on the former Italian dictator.

In the words of one commentator Mr. Churchill had a ready-made answer to at least some of these questions.

GENERALS BEST JUDGES

"None could be more effective than to say that Generals Eisenhower, Alexander and Montgomery, acting in conjunction with their chiefs of staff, were the best judges of what could be done, just as they must be left to decide the venue, scale and form of the next offensive which will be directed at the heart of Germany," said the News of the World commentator.

"He (Mr. Churchill) will contend that history contains no precedent . . . not even in German blitzkrieg . . . for such speed in successive operations as North Africa, Tunisia, Sicily and Italy.

"Such enterprises, he will stress, cannot be undertaken without colossal organization. They are not carried through, as some critics seem to think, by means of a magic wand."

Arrangements meanwhile were reported virtually complete for a British-United States-Russian political conference with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden for Britain, W. Averell Harriman for the United States and Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov for Russia at the table.

Mr. Churchill, looking exceptionally fit for the tasks ahead of him, reached an undisclosed point in England after an Atlantic plane crossing and completed the trip to London by special train.

Frigate Launched

VICTORIA, Sept. 20.—(CP)—British Columbia contributed to the ships for Victory Day Saturday by launching a frigate, the H.M.C.S. Orkney. The vessel was one of 12 launched across Canada.

Manufacture of a 2½-ton capacity army truck requires the use of about 11,000 pounds of steel and iron.

Titled Newsman Passes in Ireland

KILLARNEY, Eire, Sept. 20.—(CP)—The Earl of Kenmare, 52, who under his former title of Viscount Castlerosse was one of London's best-known newspaper columnists before the war, died suddenly today at his home here.

At the time of his death he was director of the Evening Standard, the Daily Express and the Sunday Express, newspapers of Lord Beaverbrook with whom he was long associated. He was widely known throughout Canada and the United States.

Lord Kenmare wrote occasional articles for the Beaverbrook newspapers in recent years and was engaged on a new movie script. His first film writing was for "The Young Mr. Pitt."

Alleged Peddler Of Gas Coupons Is Held by Police

FORT WILLIAM, Sept. 20—(CP)—Joseph Asset, of Windsor, Ont., is held by Fort William police pending instructions from the oil controller's office, Ottawa.

Chief C. E. Watkins said Asset was arrested after investigation of reports that he had been peddling gasoline coupons in Fort William.

The police chief said Asset had approximately 200 gasoline ration sheets when arrested. The sheets were loose and were without a cover. They totalled 800 coupons, good for 2,400 gallons of gasoline.

U.S. to Have Planes, Men To Make Victory Certain

By J. F. SANDERSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(CP)—The United States will have the planes—and the men to fly them—to make a United Nations victory certain.

That was the conclusion I brought back to Washington after flying 2,500 miles inspecting training facilities of the United States army air forces in the eastern command.

I saw the latest plane models, some of them not yet used against the enemy, embodying elements of speed, range, fire power and bomb-carrying capacity that are phenomenal. At one field alone, Maxwell Field, near Montgomery, Ala., I saw 10,000 fledgling pilots march past in columns of 12—not a mixture of gunners, navigators and bombardiers, just pilots.

VISIT BOMBER PLANT

The trip took in the Willow Run bomber plant near Detroit, where 10 Liberators are built every day; Wright Field, near Dayton, Ohio, where $100,000,000 is being spent this year in experimenting and developing new equipment; Maxwell Field, the largest training centre in the United States, and a field near Columbia, S.C., where medium bomber crews are trained and where the fliers who bombed Tokyo last year went through their training.

I heard Maj.-Gen. John T. Hanley, commanding the army's eastern training command, say that his command alone, embracing only one-third of the country, is turning out about 4,000 pilots a year and nearly 150,000 air gunners in scores of flying schools, scattered east of the Mississippi, not to mention navigators and bombardiers.

I cannot discuss the latest developments except to say they may revolutionize air warfare, being as different from some of the planes I saw in the Battle of Britain in 1940 as an old model T Ford differs from a modern automobile.

At Maxwell Field I was shown an example of the thoroughness of the American training system.

Oxygen is required above 10,000 feet and at 25,000 or 30,000, where many of the precision-type daylight bombing attacks are launched, it is oxygen or death.

TEST CONDITION

To emphasize this basic fact, pressure chambers are built in which altitude conditions are simulated for the benefit of the embryonic pilots sitting inside. They are figuratively speaking, taken up to 30,000 feet and, to teach them the lesson of relying on oxygen tubes at all times, one man is told to disconnect his mask.

At first, he appears normal. Then, his writing becomes illegible and a chart on the wall shows his heart beat racing and the oxygen count of his blood receding. He finally goes unconscious—to be brought back immediately, and without harm, seconds after his tube has been connected again.

"That" said the instructor, "is one lesson they never fail to grasp for all time to come."

Two Adriatic Islands Taken By Guerillas

LONDON, Sept. 20. — Croat guerillas fighting under Gen. Draja Mikhailovitch were reported today to have occupied the Adriatic islands of Krk and Rab, south of Fiume, further strengthening coastal positions held by the Yugoslav patriots fighting the Germans.

Units of the Croat fleet helped gain control of the islands after joining the guerillas, according to word reaching Yugoslav headquarters in London. Large parts of the Italian Isonzo and Lombardi divisions also were said to have joined Mikhailovitch.

There were indications that the Germans had opened a campaign to drive the guerillas back from the Adriatic coast, using both land and air forces. The patriots were believed in control of practically all of the Dalmatian coast.

TOWNS OCCUPIED

Mikhailovitch's forces now occupy the Bosnian towns of Kraljevica, Karlovac, Ogulin, Crkvenica, Bakar and Gorazde, it was reported here. Croats and national partisans, the latter under General Tito, were said to have captured the Dalmatian port of Sibenik, 35 miles northwest of Split.

The Germans have been pouring fresh troops into the Balkans in preparation for a last-ditch stand, according to reliable information received in Ankara, Turkey. The present Nazi strength in the Balkans was estimated at 20 divisions, or up to 300,000 men. Civilian passenger and freight traffic was said to have been halted between Belgrade and Nish in Yugoslavia in order to leave the rail line clear for troops movements into Bulgaria and Greece.

The capture of Lae is rated by General MacArthur as the most important victory his American-Australian forces have yet won, a long step on the road back to Manila—and to points beyond.

The Lae-Salamaua base was the springboard from which Jap air forces last year bombed Australian coastal points, and from which an attempt was made to execute a land attack on Port Moresby. In clearing this area of the enemy, Australia is freed from whatever danger of invasion there remained; and the Allies have gained an advance position from which to carry the war to the enemy at Rabaul, and to launch bombing raids on Japanese naval and air bases in the islands to the north and west.

Rabaul, 400 miles away, is apparently the nearest enemy strong-point, and Gen. MacArthur thus has freedom of choice as to what is to be the next objective. Lae fell just when the enemy was reported sending new fleets of aircraft to New Guinea. Its capture is the more important on that account, both to the Allies and to the Japs.

As indicating the trend of enemy morale, it may be significant that the Jap garrison at Lae did not obey the Tokyo injunction that they must die in their holes for the glory of Tojo and the profit of his mercenary backers, but followed the example set by their fellows at Salamaua and at Kiska. When the Allied troops closed in they took to the woods.

Better Arrange in Advance

To a quite considerable extent the over-crowding of Edmonton's housing capacity is due to the influx of people who were not ordered here in the course of military service and who did not come to engage in war work. It is a pleasant place to live and people naturally like the fast-growing town, whether to go into business, for social or family reasons, or to enjoy retirement.

There is certainly no fault to be found because many who could choose other places of residence have chosen Edmonton, and their presence has added the volume of business done, the patronage of the city utilities, the number of direct and indirect taxpayers. But in the housing scarcity that existed their coming has necessarily contributed to the present congestion.

The city authorities have not taken the measures taken at Halifax, where warnings were broadcast that living quarters were unobtainable and that only those who must live in the city should migrate thither. But the situation in Edmonton is very similar, sufficiently so that people living elsewhere who contemplate coming to the city should make it a point to definitely secure accommodation before they break up their present homes and bring their families and belongings here.

Those who plan to rent apartments or houses would be particularly ill-advised to simply come along "bag and baggage" in hope of finding satisfactory quarters. The regrettable fact is that this class of accommodation is almost out of question, and it is better for all concerned that the fact be understood.

Canada on the Sea

The launching of the Micmac at an eastern Canadian port marks another long stride in the progress of ship-building in the Dominion. This is the first modern large-size destroyer built in Canada, and the largest naval vessel ever constructed in a Canadian yard. It is named after an Algonquin tribe who inhabited Nova Scotia and New Brunswick when Cabot touched that coast in 1497. The name, significantly, means Allies.

That was not the only record set up by the ship-builders on Saturday. They established another when at ports on both coasts and the inland waterways they sent a total of twelve vessels sliding down the slipways. Besides the Micmac these included two frigates, two 10,000-ton merchantmen, a mine-sweeper, a corvette, a fairmile patrol ship, three tugs and a tanker.

For a country with virtually no ship-building industry when the war broke, the launching of a round dozen assorted naval and merchant vessels in a single day is an achievement justifying some self-congratulation. The day's contribution to the 620 the number of ships launched in Canadian yards in four years—not counting of course river steamers and small craft intended for inland or coastal service only.

When the war comes to an end there will be Canadian bottoms to carry Canada's wheat and other products to markets in any part of the world; and Canadian warships to worthily represent this nation in the Allied policing of the seas. What this great fleet of fighting and carrier craft has done and is doing to help smash the Axis conspiracy and save world freedom, spokesmen for our comrade-nations have testified in most emphatic terms.

Headed for Brenner Pass

Salerno, scene of a slugging-match in which the Nazis were decisively beaten and heavily punished, now becomes the base for the Allied sweep up the Italian peninsula. The 5th and 8th Armies have joined forces in a coast to coast advance on Naples and Rome, and whatever other points of resistance the enemy may have chosen to cover the mountain fortress Rommel has established in the north.

That this progress will be rapid cannot be assumed, for Hitler has too much at stake to ignore any opportunity to delay the advance. The Nazis are fighting to keep the war out of Germany. That they will dispute every mile of the Italian battleground is to be supposed, if they can. But with the southern quarter of the country firmly in their control, its ports open and its railways, roads and airfields at their disposal, the Allied forces are in far better position to deal with their opponents than they have been.

In this territory reinforcements and supplies can be landed without opposition, and forced with machine regularity. And until the Genoa-Venice line is reached the enemy will be under constant threat that other Allied forces may land in their rear on either the western or the Adriatic coast.

Rommel in Africa showed himself to be a master of retreat. In Italy he will not have the advantage of being able to reload Italian troops to fight rearguard actions while his Nazi divisions run; for the Italians would be as likely to join his pursuers as to resist them, which the astute Herman knows as well as anybody. He may withdraw from central Italy faster on that account than can be definitely expected.

Premier Linkomies said Finland regrets being at war with Britain and would like to make peace with Russia on the basis of assured independence and the pre-1939 boundaries. This is an open invitation to Premier Stalin to initiate negotiations. It may also be supposed that the Finnish Premier stated his maximum demands at the outset, and might accept something less in the way of territorial adjustments. It is up to Moscow.

Mr. Hull's Speech Welcome

One Encouraging Feature Is Welcoming of Public Discussion

BY DOROTHY THOMPSON

Mr. Hull's speech was certainly welcome. It is more than a year since the secretary of state has spoken on American foreign policy, in its larger and more permanent aspects, and in that time policy has been made from day to day and has come in for a good deal of public criticism.

Dorothy Thompson

The events of the past few weeks have changed, and are changing, the face of the earth. And the demand for an explanation of what America is up to, has been increasing with ever-greater loudness abroad and in this country.

In the absence of an official description of our policy all kinds of rumors, speculations and guesswork have flourished. It is understandable that many apprehensions have been created.

In such a situation the speech of Mr. Hull was necessary, and expectations were high. Perhaps because the expectations were so high, the speech came as something of an anti-climax. It is more reassuring than enlightening and it contains more generalities than glitter.

There is one thing in it which is really encouraging. That is the welcoming of public discussion. The journalists of this country are in a long-suffering mood aroused by now to being treated as public nuisances by officials in power, when they raise questions which concern not only themselves but the public. And it is a great comfort when the secretary of state confirms that we have a function in American life, as giving expression to independent thought and to currents of public opinion.

What are the questions that really concern that part of the public who earnestly try to follow our foreign policy? The one that has caused the greatest amount of recent discussion concerns our permanent relations with Russia. To that point Mr. Hull said that we want to live in harmony in war and in peace and extend co-operation and he enumerated the obvious facts of our interdependence in the war and suggested that we have greater permanent areas of interest than of divergency. This is true and good.

But the differences that exist are also real, and not a word is said, or even implied, as to how we are to overcome those specific differences. Mr. Hull is realistic and candid when he says that all countries operate for their own national interests and that there are bound to be conflicts in interests, which he hopes to see settled, after the war, in political and legal ways.

But in diplomacy, as Mr. Hull well knows, the possibilities of the future are determined by the actions of the present. We have, for instance, a world war on our hands and we have twenty years of diplomacy behind us. Some of the diplomats wanted the World War, but that is what they got, and we may therefore question whether their diplomacy was correct.

The political questions at stake with Russia all concern the future of Europe and the Russian role in it. If any definite agreement about future good relations with Russia can be maintained by creating a series of buffer states along the Russian frontier, which will become a cushion rather than a bridge between the west and Russia, then all that talk about ideas about future peace will fail. For Russia is giving daily proof that she has no intention of returning to power-vacuum. If anyone is seeking allies in Europe against a possible Russian danger in some future time, he will have competition from Russia in the same game.

If our diplomacy, furthermore, seeks to get Russian acquiescence to hegemony over major parts of Europe, in return for granting Russia her own "spheres of influence," then the basis of mutual interest will tend to become smaller and of conflict larger.

If our diplomacy tends to prevent the evolution of freedom in Russia, by states in which she is immediately interested, such as Czechoslovakia; if we alienate national democratic elements which enjoy Russian support, such as the French Committee of Liberation; if we contemplate a long government of large parts of Europe by an Anglo-American "amgot"; and if our conception of what constitutes "stable governments" is not better defined than in Mr. Hull's speech, it is dubious whether "areas of mutual interest" will be large enough eventually to overcome divergencies.

All Mr. Hull's objectives are admirable. What is in question are the diplomatic ways of obtaining those objectives. Nor must one confuse an apology for what is done for military reasons by pretending that they have no political results. Military and political policies must be synchronized, so that military events will accelerate the right policies and not the wrong ones.

In the Italian situation, there was such a gap between the political event of the fall of Mussolini, after the follow up of the military, that we have lost great opportunities, and even after Mr. Hull's speech, it is still a secret what our Italian policy really is.

Mr. Hull has promised us that this is his first speech, and that more will be made. They will be awaited with the most serious and eager interest.

Britain

From a letter to the New York Herald Tribune from an American who is a gunner in a Flying Fortress and stationed in England.

Others probably have given you some comprehension of the changes that have occurred in this country at the war. It is good to be here. . . .

There will be no lost generation nonsense this time—not in England certainly, and it is not in the United States. These people are not sorry for themselves or afraid of the future.

By sticking together, sharing alike and using their heads, they have come through the war, and they count on solving the problems of peace the same way. There are anxious for the war to finish, not so much because they are war weary as because they have been let in on the job of reconstruction. They are impatient to rebuild, not only smashed homes, decrepit and outmoded institutions.

I had expected to find an old society with thinning blood and hardening arteries. I have found the vigor, energy and self-confidence of youth.

If, at the end of the war, we find ourselves in permanent partnership with the British—as I think we must —we will have a new power relations completely reversed. Americans will be the cautious, conservative, sluggish factor and we will find Britain the progressive junior partner with young ideas.

NEWS OF NORWAY

A few days ago Quisling Newspaper, Fritt Folk, posed this question to its readers: "What made the cheapest trip across the North Sea?" The answer supplied was: "King Haakon, because the entire trip cost him only one crown." The next morning an unidentified man telephoned the editor and said he had enjoyed the little joke but added that the newspaper had missed the real point. "What is that?" asked the editor. "Well," said the man, "when the King returns he will get the crown back, and then he will have made the entire journey without if having cost him anything."

A Trip to Saskatchewan

BY R. T. RICHARDSON

REGINA—The other day Premier W. J. Patterson announced that his government had a surplus of $548,000 in the recent fiscal year. Patterson is not the man to insist on a flourish of trumpets on this occasion. Saskatchewan fired no general salute for its 1943 surplus.

In the premier's office in the beautiful Regina Parliament building, we tried to get "Billy" Patterson, as he is known to his friends in all corners of Saskatchewan, to admit that, in view of the late and unlamented hard times on the prairies and droughts, a surplus of half a million dollars was something of a achievement. After all, Saskatchewan is itself bigger than many European countries. It had a long period of financing in the red. And many years of hard and unrewarding labor has gone into the practice of thrift in this province's finances. These things are all true, but Patterson is not the man to make special claims.

Of course, conditions are different from the big-deficit drouth years, when many wide heads were shaken over the "permanent" collapse of Saskatchewan agriculture. But the premier, Hon. W. J. Patterson became premier of Saskatchewan, after long experience in public affairs, at a time when that many would care to tackle, because it was plainly going to be a long, difficult road back for Saskatchewan. Patterson is a symbol in many ways of the people who lived through the dustbowl years, hewing to the line of confidence that faith in the prairies as a land with a future, sticking it out until the great wheel of prosperity made fortune ground around the circle. Patterson and his kind of people played along with fate and fortune in the days when fortune ran on every side to cash in the chips and take a chance on some rosy illusion.

Not only has Saskatchewan reported a surplus this year, but it had a surplus of $259,000 in its public accounts for 1942. In that year it reduced its public debt by $6,000,000, which cuts down its overhead costs. On June 15, Saskatchewan handled a maturity of $3,155,000 on the money was borrowed in 1923 at 5 per cent for roads, telephones and co-operative elevators, thus paying off $1,955,000 and refunding $1,200,000 at 3.8 per cent. This is the lowest price Saskatchewan ever paid on its bonds. Last year the Patterson government paid $1,000,000 into sinking funds to bring all its reserves for future debt repayment up to date.

Saskatchewan is moving quickly out of the red. But Patterson, instead of getting out the soapbox to shout about it, said: "The average man possibly doesn't care if the budget is balanced or not." We are glad that people appreciate having a government that looks after their affairs well. In any case, how can one expect a period in which the people of Saskatchewan have regarded their Saskatchewan-born premier with confidence and support? Saskatchewan's premier has something that other political leaders, who burn out quickly, lack, and that is vitality.

The old sanctity of budget balancing may be gone. But the old

Take Care of Possessions

Your Gloves and Household Cleaning Aids Are Precious

BY MARY ALICE QUAYNE

You are no doubt taking the best care possible of your clothes, your gloves, shoes and your precious household cleaning aids.

Many of these items resolve themselves into two parts—buying wisely, and then keeping and saving the gloves. In buying, select materials according to use, sturdier gloves for work and carrying packages, or for hanging onto streetcar straps, and the lighter leathers or fabrics for dress wear. Suede and kid cannot be expected to give long wear if you strain them too much.

Gloves should be bought to fit, if they are to give good service. There are differences in finger length as well as in palm width, and you should see that both are right. Tight gloves will not last if you work in them or drive a car.

Keeping gloves means not losing them. Some women sew a name tape inside the seam of each. Some use a glove holder to fasten to handbags. Some, addicted to losing gloves, always buy two pairs alike, so as to be able to match them up if one is lost.

Wearing gloves right is part of saving them too. Watch the saleslgirl as she puts them on you, working the fingers on slowly then the thumb and palm. Do the same when you put on tight-fitting gloves at home. Pulling them on quickly is apt to strain seams and glove material.

Remove Gloves

Take them off as carefully, loosening each fingertip and turning the cuff back as far as you can easily, then drawing the gloves off. Suede gloves are the exception to this rule, as they should not have the cuffs turned back, and you should not touch fingertips with your fingers if you can help it. After they have been removed ease them back into shape.

Remember to turn the stones of your rings inside the palm when you put on your gloves. When you take gloves off, blow into them, let them air and then lay the gloves flat in a box—in tissue paper if the lemon gets to good ones.

Watch the rips and mend every broken thread at once, imitating the stitch originally used as nearly as possible. Use cotton thread to mend most gloves as silk will cut leather and pull out.

However you intend to clean gloves, never let them get too soiled. Decide at first whether they should be washed or dry cleaned, as leather gloves should not be washed after they have been cleaned.

Glove Washing

Never wash leather gloves unless they are stamped as washable, either inside the glove or on a label. Save washing instructions and follow them carefully.

If you have no directions, the following are generally right for most gloves: wash them on your hands with a mild, lukewarm suds. Wash doeskin and chamois off the hands, as they will stretch. Do not rub or brush, but work and squeeze up and down in the suds, and squeeze the suds through them. Rinse until the gloves are free from soap, using soft water if possible.

Roll in a turkish towel to absorb extra water. Shape the gloves and blow into the fingers. Lay them on a dry towel away from heat or sunlight. Before they dry, work them on your hands to soften and shape them.

These simple rules take but a small amount of time, and compared to the savings they effect they are well worth the effort. Make them part of your routine.

Care for Brushes

Brushes are our mainstay of all cleaning programs. And they should be cared for, especially these days, because bristles have become war-scarce treasures. Wash them frequently in warm soapy water, shake to straighten bristles and hang up to dry. Never let them rest on their bristles.

I have found that fiber brooms even though they cost a little more than a broomcorn one, last longer and work better. Besides you can wash in water, whereas water injures broom corn. Never rest brooms on their bristles but hang them by the handle.

Dust cloths are step-children of the cleaning wardrobe and they deserve more attention. You'll be surprised how much longer your dusters will wear and serve you if you put them through the leftover suds in the water when you've finished washing each week. For the perfectly oiled duster put about two tablespoons of good furniture polish in a quart sealer and shake vigorously or until the polish coats the jar. Place your soft dust cloth or cheesecloth in this jar for several days. When ready to use you will have a cloth evenly oiled so that it won't drop out.

Your carpet sweeper can be your best cleaning friend. Be sure to empty it after every using and keep free from hair and threads. But don't yank these out. Clip first with scissors or you may injure the brush. Clean brush with a dry cleaning fluid if needed. Oil the sweeper as directed, usually once a month, rather lightly.

Italy and Malaria

Allied troops which invaded the toe of Italy are passed through a mountainous, wooded, poor, illiterate, highly malarious country containing a little less than five per cent of Italy's population—1,896,849 people in the three provinces of Reggio de Calabria, Catanzaro and Cosenza which make up Calabria.

The Anopheles malarial mosquito thrives in the wells, the orange and lemon groves, in the small puddles which result from the artificial irrigation of fruit and vegetable gardens.

The principal cities are Reggio di Calabria, which dates back to 723 B.C., opposite Sicily; Crotone, one of the Pythagorean brotherhood, on the east shore; Catanzaro, where the women may still be seen wearing the picturesque Calabrian costume; the marketing centre of Cosenza, where the Alaric king of the Visigoths died in 410 after plundering Rome and while he was on the way to plunder Sicily, on the west coast; Tarsano, birthplace of St. Nilus, on the east.

Calabria has the lowest standard of education in Italy. It is notorious for illiteracy. Attempts to make school attendance compulsory have largely failed because the peasants need their children to aid them in the fields, especially because of the high degree of illness from malaria.

The prevalence of malaria is one reason why parts of the west coast were abandoned. In Italy the incidence of malaria runs in cycles about six years apart. A high degree of incidence was noted in 1929 and again in 1936.

Nazis Withdraw Steadily From Salerno Sector

By REYNOLDS PACKARD
Representing the Combined United States Press
Distributed by the Canadian Press

WITH THE 5TH ARMY IN ITALY, Sept. 20—Part of the German forces in the Salerno area were believed withdrawing toward the north as the 5th army generally speeded up its advances yesterday all along its front.

Following the taking of one town by British troops Saturday, the German supply difficulties should increase and they must pull out from southwest of Salerno or live on the country.

DEAD UNBURIED

In an effort to break contact with the 5th army the Germans pulled out of some sectors of the Salerno front so fast that for the first time since the Allied landings here they left many bodies unburied on the battlefields. American burial patrols, supervised by a chaplain and composed of service troops, penetrated into no-man's-land this morning to give the German dead a Christian burial, erecting crosses over the graves.

Earlier, the 5th army took three more strategically important towns, two of which were captured by Americans and the third by British formations.

In each case the Germans, after several days of fierce resistance, suddenly pulled out as the Allies occupied commanding points around each place. One of these towns is important as a roadway hub, the second because it stands on a high point dominating the countryside, while the third place represents an extension of the Salerno beachhead in a northerly direction.

I was on a knob which enabled me to see the occupation of one of the towns which fell to the Allies and could see at first hand the enemy tactics. They fought day and night with machine guns, mortars, rifles and 88-millimetre guns, sent out patrols and utilized sneak air raids up to the very last minute. Then firing ceased suddenly and the enemy had withdrawn.

PRISONERS TAKEN

I saw a number of prisoners taken today and they were the most dilapidated soldiers I have seen in a long time. Their uniforms—most of them wore khaki shorts and green visored caps—were badly patched and torn. They seemed short of food, mainly because the Allied strategic air forces had prevented them from getting anything from the north.

The German air force has shown slackening of power in the last several days. In one area where during the first six days the average was 56 sneak raids a day, the number of raids has fallen to an average of 17 in the last three days.

Soldier to Appear On Drug Charges

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20.—(CP)—Charles W. Nazis Continue Murders, Arrests But Fear Hunger-Stricken Poland

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Today, four years after Hitler conquered Poland, German soldiers still are not allowed to walk the streets of Warsaw alone.

After four years of persecutions and cruelty the Gestapo still carries on mass murder, mass deportations and mass arrests. But the Germans still are afraid of hunger-stricken Poland.

The story of what life is like in Warsaw has been brought here by a formerly well-to-do Pole who escaped to join the Polish army here as an officer.

He said those who knew Warsaw in pre-war days would not recognize the well-known streets in the shapeless ruins stretching for miles, the people tired-looking, dressed in rags, with pale, sickly faces and nervous furtive movements.

VEGETABLES FOR NAZIS

Warsaw awakes at 6 a.m. when the peasant carts begin clattering on the cobbled streets of the suburbs, bringing vegetables for Germans only. Poles cannot buy vegetables or fruit. All they have is what they can grow in the narrow strips of soil along the city pavements which once were parkways.

By 8 o'clock the streets are crowded with people going to work, starting a hunt for the means to live, or simply those who have no homes.

Unlike the occupied countries of Holland, Belgium and France, Poles get no clothing coupons. People go on wearing their pre-war clothing. Production of leather shoes is forbidden and the streets echo with the clatter of wooden shoes.

Official food rations for Poles constitute a starvation diet. An adult is entitled to six ounces of meat, six ounces of flour, two eggs and six ounces of beetroot jam a month. He gets four ounces of bread a day. There is no milk or fat ration. Nor is there any fuel allocation. Electricity is cut off except for three hours a day in the winter and two in the summer.

Countless trainloads of food leave Poland daily for Germany or the Russian front. Shops supplying German clients are full of food, German soldiers send provisions to their families back home.

In an effort to survive, the people sold their possessions, then found that trade was a perilous escape from starvation. Society women, university professors and seamstresses vied with peddlers. Some went from house to house. Others opened small shops. Today 80 per cent. of the population trades.

This keeps money floating from hand to hand, leaving a narrow margin for the trader. But shopkeepers are facing net disaster. With the Allied bombardment of the Ruhr, many thousands of Germans were evacuated to Poland. To halt their grumbling, German authorities are evicting Poles from their shops and turning them over to the evacuees.

The "black market"—a name despised in free countries—has almost a patriotic meaning in Poland. Every day thousands of smugglers, risking great danger, travel sometimes hundreds of miles from Warsaw to return with food to help the citizenry survive.

There is a word with a new meaning in the Polish dictionary—"łapanka," mass roundups of human beings. There are two kinds—political "łapankas" during which the Gestapo arrests all persons suspected on political grounds, and roundups for forced labor.

Trucks filled with police and Gestapo agents surround a chosen locale. Men, women and children caught within the area are driven away in trucks to a gestapo depot. There they are kept in huge huts without food.

LABOR ROUNDUPS

In political "łapankas" those who do not satisfy the gestapo are sent to concentration camps. In labor roundups men, women and children over 14 years of age are packed into trucks and deported to Germany.

Curfew is at 8 p.m. and as that hour approaches the people rush home to the kitchen, where it is warmest, to listen for the dreaded sound of heavy boots on the stairs, for the Germans especially like to carry out arrests and searches at night.

The escaped Pole said he wanted to make clear that what is happening in Poland now—the killing of hostages men, sabotage in factories, destruction of railway bridges—are not spontaneous acts of individuals or groups of patriots, but are the regular work of an organized, powerful and big, spreading over thousands of villages and towns, embracing many thousands of men and women.

Verdun Grads Win in Q.R.F.U.

MONTREAL, Sept. 20.—(CP)—Verdun Grads ran up their second straight senior Q.R.F.U. victory here yesterday when they blanked Huntingdon Army 31-0 in the second game of a doubleheader. In the opener, Lachine R.C.A.F. swamped Navy 18-0.

Grads amassed their total on five touchdowns, two rouges, a convert and placement kick.

Grads moved into the top spot in the standing, R.C.A.F. and Navy are tied in second spot with a win each while Army is in the cellar after its second straight loss.

A revived big four and O.R.F.U. combination of Jimmy Riddell and Buddy Acheson, just about took care of things for the Verdun team as they accounted for 21 points between them.

Navy seemed unable to cope with the backfield plays of the airmen and time and again, Richman, Fripp and Barclay peeled off long gains on end runs and runbacks of kicks.

An intercepted forward pass by Bill Gardner early in the third quarter set the stage for a placement kick for Fred Lamoureux, former Ottawan and he made no mistake from 30 yards out.

Market Wise Cops $25,000 Feature

PAWTUCKET, R.I., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Despite a bad quarter crack in his right front leg, Market Wise, Lou Tufano's handicap star, charged courageously through the stretch to win the $25,000 added Narragansett Special by a head over John L. Sullivan's Air Master Saturday at Narragansett park.

Market Wise was limping badly when jockey Johnny Longden of Cardston, Alta., brought him back to the winner's circle after the mile and three-sixteenths jaunt which he covered in 1:55 3-5, the best time ever recorded in this stake and only two-fifths of a second off the track mark established by A. G. Vanderbilt's Discovery. The race was worth $25,300 to the winner.

Louis B. Mayer's Thumbs Up finished four lengths behind Air Master while Shut Out, the 1942 Kentucky Derby winner from the Greentree Stable was fourth, two and one-half lengths further back.

Schoendienst Leading Hitter

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(AP)—The title of International League batting champion became official for Alfred (Red) Schoendienst of Rochester Saturday with announcement of the final averages for the circuit.

The Red Wings' star infielder finished the season with a mark of .336, 21 points ahead of Ed Levy of Newark Bears, who wound up with .315.

Trailing this pair came George Staller, Baltimore, .304; Bob Ortiz, Montreal, .303; Gus Brack, Montreal, .284; Van Harrington, Syracuse, .280; Harry Davis, Toronto, .280; Hank Sauer, Syracuse, .278; Jimmy Outlaw, Buffalo, .276, and Larry Rosenthal, Newark, .274.

NEW YARK, Sept. 20.—(CP)—The American Hockey League, cut to six teams by the war, decided Saturday on a 1943-44 season beginning Oct. 17 and ending March 12 The loop will be made up this season of Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Indianapolis, Buffalo, Hershey and Providence.

Toronto Stops Combines 11-9

BRAMPTON, Ont., Sept. 20.—(CP) — Toronto Lakeshores defeated Mimico-Brampton Combines 11-9 here Saturday night to win the third game of their best-of-seven series for the Ontario Lacrosse Association title.

After dropping the first two games of the series, Lakeshores came back strong, paced by Hartley, to upset the classy combines. Elmer Lee, centre and Siegeal and Jordan went well for Lakeshores. Bill Izzaks and Morgan Smith carried most of the weight for Combines.

"Hank" Goldup Sworn Into Army

TORONTO, Sept. 20.—(CP)—Army officials yesterday announced that Henry (Hank) Goldup, 25, former left winger with Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, was sworn into the Canadian active army here Saturday.

Note Increase Of Workers in Key Industries

OTTAWA, Sept. 20.— (CP) — Trade Minister MacKinnon released yesterday Dominion bureau of statistics figures showing that in sotte of the continued absorption of men and women in the forces, the workers employed in eight leading industries increased by 20.1 per cent in the 25 months ended last July 1.

The minister said the bureau records covered about two-thirds of the wage-earners of the Dominion, with agricultural workers, fishermen, government employees and those engaged in the professions excluded.

The records, however, cover about 90 per cent of the workers in manufacturing, mining, logging, the great bulk of those engaged in transportation enterprises and in construction, and a large sample of those in wholesale and retail trade.

FINANCIAL WORKERS

In recent years the records also have included from 65,000 to 70,000 workers employed in financial institutions.

From July 1, 1941, to July 1, 1943, the actual increase in workers in eight leading industries, exclusive of finance, was from 1,535,000 to 1,909,000. In manufacturing the percentage increase in the number of employees in the 25 months was 34.8 per cent.

The bureau, which is part of the trade and commerce department, reported that the increase in the number of workers in the eight leading industries had been "much smaller" than the increases in the payrolls.

The average per capita weekly earnings in the eight leading industries in the 25 months rose from $25.25 as at June 1, 1940, to $30.95 as of July 1, 1943, or 22.6 per cent. In the manufacturing group, the rise was from $25.57 to $31.61, or 23.6 per cent.

Italian Airmen Reach N. Africa

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Some Italian air force pilots flying a variety of planes—mostly antiquated—managed to evade the Germans and reached Allied airfields in Sicily and North Africa, it was disclosed Saturday.

At one Sicilian landing ground 12 airmen poured out of one bomber arriving at dusk. Smiling broadly, they handed over their revolvers and peeled off their flying suits. Another, A Flat CR-42 fighter landed and a tall young air force lieutenant who escaped the wrath of the Milan stepped out and announced in broken English:

"Signor, we very good pilot. Come fight for you."

He told of anti-German demonstrations at Milan and other parts of northern Italy, and said many Italian pilots were eager to join the fight against the Nazis because the Italian people feel it was Germany that first invaded Italy."

Then he proposed seriously that he swam his field fighter a split-time fire and go to work with the R.A.F.

Calgary Airman Listed Missing

CALGARY, Sept. 20. — (CP) — Calgary's "flam buster," P/O. Harlo Taerum, D.F.C., R.C.A.F., has been reported missing as a result of air operations overseas Sept. 15, according to official word received Saturday by his mother, Mrs. H. Taerum. The young airman was decorated for his part in the raids on the Mohne and Eder dams in May. He was navigator on the plane of Wing Commander Guy P. Gibson, V.C., D.S.O. and Bar, who led the dam-busting raid.

Red Deer Soldier Made Lieutenant

OTTAWA, Sept. 20.—(CP)—The defence department today announced the promotion of the following officers and other ranks of the Canadian army overseas. Those promoted included:

Military District No. 13, Calgary —To be Acting Captain, P. B. McCaffrey, Calgary. To be Lieutenant (first appointment), S. F. Farrow, Red Deer, Alta.

Gordie Drillon, 29, former right winger with Leafs, who said he is making plans enlisting soon, and Sylvanus Apps, star centre with Leafs when they won the Stanley cup two successive seasons ago. Apps enlisted in the army several weeks ago but has not yet been sworn in.

Flood of Questions Await Churchill on Italy's Fall

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(CP)—The imminent reconvening of parliament has opened the flood-gates for a rush of political questions about the unfinished conquest of Italy.

Various members of parliament gave notice that they would ask Prime Minister Churchill these questions:

Why was not the surrender of Mussolini made a condition of the armistice for Italy?

Has the Italian government of Pietro Badoglio confirmed that no British prisoners were transferred to Germany after Mussolini's fall?

Has AMG (the Allied military government) received instructions to make sure that young Italians no longer are taught Fascism?

Who was responsible for broadcasting the Italian armistice terms before they were communicated to the House of Commons?

Mr. Churchill is expected to make a statement to the house at an early session on the Quebec war conference and Italian surrender. The precise date of parliament's reassembling after the summer recess was not disclosed.

Rhys Davis gave notice he would ask Sir Kingsley Wood, chancellor of the exchequer, why, as he said, the British Empire gave the United States a 99-year lease on Atlantic bases in exchange for a group of over-age destroyers, the government now was called upon to pay $5,600,000 in this connection.

Election Forecast By C.C.F. Leader

TORONTO, Sept. 20.—(CP)—E. B Jolliffe, Ontario C.C.F. leader, forecast a coming Dominion election and pointed to the August party successes as a signpost to things to come, when he spoke to the Ontario council of the C.C.F. on Saturday at a dinner that opened the four-day conference here.

"The next federal election is the most important in the history of the Canadian people. Ontario is the key province, and when the next election comes—that may be any time now—Ontario will decide the issue," he said.

He described the King government as "drifting aimlessly through the war." He added, "It may call a quick election in the hope that once again the electors will support King rather than change horses in the middle of the stream."

Turning to the post-war Canada, he said, "It is of the utmost importance that Canada should be represented at the peace conference by men like Curtin, Fraser and M. J. Coldwell, that Canada should hound a new order, founded on the principles of the Regina manifesto."

British Columbia Premier to Confer On Utility Services

VICTORIA, Sept. 20—(CP)—Premier John Hart announced Saturday that he will confer at Toronto about Sept. 30 with a four-member committee appointed by the British Columbia Power Corporation.

Main discussion will be the proposed acquisition of the company's utility services by the municipalities in which they function. The company has advised Mr. Hart it would prefer to continue operating these services itself, but has agreed to name a committee to discuss the subject.

Social Plans Said Danger to Unity

GRANBY, Que., Sept. 20.—(CP)—Federal social security plans such as the Beveridge or Marsh plans might "endanger national unity as it is understood in the province of Quebec," delegates to the 22nd annual meeting of the Confederation des Travailleurs Catholiques du Canada (Confederation of Catholic Workers of Canada) were told by President Alfred Charpentier last night in his opening address.

"What does the C.T.C.C. think of the Beveridge-Marsh plan?" asked President Charpentier. "The Marsh Canadian plan tends to centralize and everything it includes or provides for would be in the hands of Ottawa and administered there. How could the central government respect all that is peculiar to Quebec?

"It would be wiser when, after the war, the federal government enforces a security plan, to do so through the medium of concurring provincial legislation in each province."

Axis Troops Desert In Salerno Sector

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(CP)—There have been a number of desertions from German positions in the Salerno area in recent days and nights, mostly Austrians, conscripted Czechs and Poles, William Munday, representing the combined Australian press, reported in a dispatch from the 5th Army yesterday. One German major came out onto a mountain track, however, and told a surprised British patrol, "I'm fed up. I've had enough of this blankety-blank war."

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

THAT soccer either retains or has regained at least a considerable portion of its one-time popularity in this city was plainly evident at Clarke Stadium on Saturday night as a big crowd was on hand when England administered the crushing 6-2 defeat to Scotland in the Kiwanis Club international match.

The winners held a decided margin and there is little doubt but that the clever passing display by their forwards must have pleased the soccer experts who were in on what was probably the re-birth of the game so far as Edmonton is concerned.

Although Scotland passed up several wide open chances to score, the half line was chiefly to blame for the loss as the English forwards appeared to drive through it almost at will. The Scotch attackers also received little offensive support from their first line of defence.

HARRISON BUSY MAN

BUSIEST man on the field was Harrison in the Scots' goal, while at the opposite end Woodbridge never had a close-up view of the ball until after the game had been in progress for more than 10 minutes.

Les Morley, former Vancouver centre forward now in Red Deer, and who plays for the Army team from that city in the Calgary League, was outstanding and he made no mistake when taking the penalty shot awarded for Wyllie's trip of Moore. WO. Sabin, the Penhold captain for the winners, led his side well and was accorded excellent wing support, the work of Moore at inside right and that of Linder, outside left, being especially noteworthy.

Probably one of the most interested spectators was AC2. Eric Camp, of Vancouver, now at No 3 "M" Depot. Eric played centre for the Vancouver Radials when they were in Edmonton four years ago while on their campaign for the Dominion title.

HERE AND THERE . . .

BEGINS to look as if the City Men's Basketball League, which enjoyed a banner season under the presidency of Clare Hollingsworth last winter, will be functioning again.

It is rumored that the annual meeting will be called for the first week in October and that last year's champions, the U.S. Army Engineers, plan to commence workouts on October 1. Aircraft Repair will be a new entry.

Jennie O'Donnell, pitcher for the Army and Navy Pats in the Senior Girls' Fastball League, left the city last night for Humboldt, Sask., where she will begin training as a nurse. Jennie shared with Beryl Westbrook the chucking burden for the Pats during the entire summer, winning six and losing five games.

Scotland Outplayed by More Finished Eleven in Kiwanis Club Benefit Game

England Wins International Soccer 6-2

Moore Scores Three Times, Sabin Twice

DISPLAYING a marked superiority over their opponents for the greater part of 90 minutes, England defeated Scotland 6-2 at Clarke Stadium on Saturday night in a big international soccer match. The winners led at the half 2-0.

The game was under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club, the proceeds being for that organization's charities and was attended by close to 2,500 spectators. Major Ben H. Pearse of the U.S. Army Air Force kicked off the ball to start the match which was sanctioned by the Alberta Football Association.

Bill Gordon refereed, with Duncan Maclean and A. Orchin as linesmen. The band from No. 4 I.T.S. and Canadian Legion pipe band furnished the music.

Flt. Sgt. Moore, of Penhold R.A.F. scored one goal in the first half and two in the second, while WO. Dick Sabin, also of Penhold and captain of the English eleven netted two. Pte. Lee Morley, of Red Deer Army secured the other goal for the winners on a penalty shot near the close of the game. Gardiner and Bruce scored for Scotland.

The English forwards were far more aggressive and much better supported by their half line. Their passing was of a superior brand and they finished off their plays better than did the Scots. Woodridge was called upon to make several hard saves, but Harrison received little protection in the Scotch nets and put in a very busy evening, having absolutely no chance on the shots which evaded him.

FIRST HALF

Scotland had the toss and kicked off, but England was immediately on the offensive and Linder got in the first shot. Three corner kicks followed in succession, but the Scottish defence eventually managed to get the ball away from the goal area.

England again attacked, but Jillings and Linder were offside in a pass from Morley. Dick Sabin, at centre and formerly of Hull City team in the English League scored after four minutes of play on a cross from Linder.

Linder missed the goal on a pass from Sabin and Jillings found out Harrison. Linder was wide. Harrison made a great save on a shot by Morley from well out.

Green was almost through for Scotland, but Hopwood blocked him. Two fouls had cleared the ball, but Green had not yet taken a shot at the English goal. A few seconds later Nisbett shot past.

Play was carried to the opposite end and Moore scored on a pass. Linder kicked a corner at the 20-minute mark, but Woodridge was there to get the ball easily cleared.

Scotland had another chance, but failed to get his shot away, being blocked by Hopwood.

Lorimer had two corners in rapid succession and Nisbett shot from close range, Woodridge making a fine save.

England carried the ball down the field and Moore scored.

Scotland returned and Nisbett was offside in a pass from Lorimer by inches. It was the best scoring chance the Scots had up to that time.

Superiority of the English play became even more marked. Jillings' long shot was saved by Harrison, and Moore shot wide. The Scots' goalie made a good save from Sabin.

Green missed an easy chance by heading over the bar. Nisbett was tripped by Jones and the low kick from Melsbett 30 yards away. Nisbett got in two quick shots, Woodridge being somewhat lucky on the second.

Scotland was pressing now, but Bruce failed to get his shot away on a pass from Lorimer. A few seconds later Nisbett shot over the bar.

England returned to the attack and Sabin headed Morley's corner past the goal. The Scot goalie cleared but Sabin got the rebound and Harrison called upon to save a hot one from Moore.

England eventually cleared and Bruce worked close in for his team. Scotland was now pressing and Bruce beat Woodridge at 25 minutes.

England carried the ball down the field on the return of play but the Scots' defence was equal to the occasion.

Scotland again went on the attack but Bruce was wide.

Moore was tripped by Wyllie and England was awarded a penalty. Les Morley took the kick and beat Harrison at 44 minutes, for the score of 3-2.

Former got in a nice shot. Just before the game ended Harrison made a great save at 44-45.

Letter Sent to Boards

Selective Service Clarifies Position Re Hockey Players

OTTAWA, Sept. 20—(CP)—Labor Minister Mitchell announced Saturday that "within limits" National Selective Service will not interfere with the release of hockey players to engage in the game during the forthcoming season.

Postponement under the military callup is not contemplated for hockey players subject to mobilization regulations if they are found to be physically fit for military training.

A letter outlining the position of selective service, sent to mobilization boards and national selective service officers across Canada, sets forth the following principles for the guidance of those dealing with cases:

1. Selective service permits to enter employment of a professional hockey club in Canada or the United States will be granted to any person who is not in the age groups designated under the mobilization regulations, or to any person in those age groups who has been rejected for military service, unless the applicant is employed by an establishment which has been given an "A" or "B" labor priority rating.

2. If the person is engaged by an establishment which has been given an "A" or "B" labor priority rating, a permit will not be granted without the consent of the employer and the undertaking that any time lost playing hockey will be made up in order that production will not suffer.

3. Labor exit permits will be granted under section 400 of the civilian regulations, and authorizations to leave Canada will be given under section 23 of the mobilization regulations, to any person to whom a permit to enter employment may be issued under items one or two above.

N.H.L. CAN OPERATE CLAIMS RED DUTTON

MONTREAL, Sept. 20—(CP)—"We'll definitely be able to carry on the league this winter," declared Mervyn (Red) Dutton, acting president of the National Hockey League, Saturday when he read a statement from Labor Minister Mitchell that "within certain limits" national selective service will not interfere with the release of hockey players to engage in the game during the forthcoming season.

"Now we know exactly where we stand and we'll be able to govern ourselves accordingly," Dutton said.

Safety measures could prevent 98 per cent. of the 1,000 eye injuries which occur daily in American industry.

Riding Clubs Hold Gymkhana

The gymkhana held by the Edmonton Saddle Club in conjunction with the Briarcrest Saddle Club on the former's grounds at 124 street and 104 avenue on Sunday afternoon was an outstanding success and the Russian relief fund and the Red Cross will benefit accordingly.

The chorus and orchestra from the Edmonton branch, Canadian Ukrainian association, assisted.

The riding of the younger competitors was especially good. Ponies were ridden by Mickey Ryan for children's rides.

Following are the results:

Mar-Kell Takes Beldame 'Cap

NEW YORK, Sept. 20—(AP)—Warren Wright's Mar-Kell on Saturday won the Beldame Handicap at Aqueduct, richest race of the year for fillies and mares.

Top-weighted under 126 pounds, the four-year-old Mar-Kell came from well back in the last three-eighths of a mile under Billy Thompson's piloting to lead George D. Widener's Stefanita and William Woodward's Vagrancy to the wire in that order. She licked off the mile and an eighth in 1:51 3-5 and returned $10.00 for each $2 win ticket.

The victory was worth $20,050 to the daughter of Blenheim II and boosted her earnings for the year to $47,515.

Hamilton Stops Indians 35-0

Toronto R.C.A.F. Victors In First Game of O.R.F.U.

TORONTO, Sept. 20—(CP)—Toronto's R.C.A.F. Hurricanes made an impressive takeoff Saturday in their campaign for a second Dominion football title by bombing Toronto Navy into submission 31-3 before 14,000 fans in the opening Toronto game of the Ontario Rugby Football Union's senior schedule.

The airmen found their scoring punch in the second quarter when they tallied seven points and then rolled on to get 12 more in the third and another dozen in the fourth.

The 31 R.C.A.F. points were divided among seven players. F/O. Jack Alexander and AC2 Ross Goodwin tallied seven apiece, LAC. Bob Cosgrove, AC2. Ken Sluman and Sgt. Doug Pyzer each had five while Sgt. Charlie Prince and Sgt. Fred Kilek had singles.

The three Navy points went to OS. Sandy Milne who kicked a placement in the fourth quarter. Milne was the only experienced senior performer on the Navy team.

The performance of the Montana-born Cosgrove who once played with Calgary was striking. He arrived in Toronto only Saturday morning after being in the west and hadn't worked out with his team at all.

While he played only briefly he turned in several jarring tackles and his touchdown came when he smashed through the Navy line to block a kick and then fell on the ball for the major score.

A former professional hockey player who hasn't appeared in football games for years—LAC. Red Heron—was one of the better newcomers in the game. Playing quarterback for Hurricanes, he engineered several brilliant running and passing plays late in the game and bids fairs to become one of his team's most potent threats.

WILDCATS IMPRESSIVE ON THE FIRST DAY

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 20—(CP)—Hamilton Wildcats served notice Saturday that they will prove formidable foes for all comers in the Ontario Rugby Football Union's senior series by running roughshod over Toronto Indians 35-0 in their first scheduled game.

The Wildcats scored five touchdowns in their one-sided triumph, getting one in the first quarter and one in the second and then running wild for three in the fourth.

Ten players shared in the scoring with quarterback Jim Smith getting six points. Murray Cohen, Jimmy Fumio, Chuck Stollery and Polly Miocinovitch each had a touchdown for five points. Walter Gibb scored three, Boots Brown two and Jimmy Simpson and Don Irvine one apiece.

Earl Selkirk, Jack Dyte and Jim Cumming bore the brunt of the burden for the Indians.

The Wildcats' chief superiority lay in the kicking and tackling departments. Brown and Krol consistently outdistanced Dyte and Selkirk—the latter the Indians' coach—while Jimmy Simpson, Fumio and Irvin kept the Toronto offensive well muffled.

COMBINES BOW TO BALMY BEACH 25-12

OTTAWA, Sept. 20—(CP)—Combines, making their debut in Ontario Rugby Football Union competition, learned a bitter lesson Saturday.

It was outlined to them in clean-cut fashion that fumbles can be very costly as they bowed to Toronto Balmy Beach before a crowd of 6,000 fans by a 25-12 count.

The Combines never got out of a rut once they fumbled their chances away in the early stages. They left Aley Denton's club in complete confusion and the Torontonians reeled off three forward passes in a row. The third of these passes brought a touchdown by Sut Scott.

Annis Stukus, with two three-point placements and three converts, was the big noise for the Beach team. Scott, Leo Deadey and Frank Stukus added touchdowns, while Bobby Porter contributed a single point on a near return kick.

Frank Dunlap, former Ottawa St. Patrick's college halfback, got Ottawa's only touchdown which was converted by George Fraser. Fraser also added a placement while Arnie McWatters boosted a single point and two more points came on a safety touch when Sward's punt was blocked back of his own goalline.

Ottawa completed seven of 13 passes while Beaches made good on four of nine. Ottawa made 11 first downs to seven for the visitors.

The home club outfumbled Beaches by a 3 to 1 count and this was the most important factor in their loss.

Nelson Finishes 15 Up Over Wood In Golf Challenge

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 20—(AP)—Touring his home Inverness course in championship form, Byron Nelson yesterday routed Craig Wood, Lakewood, N.J., former national champion from Mamaroneck, N.Y., 15 up in their 72-hole challenge golf match.

Nelson, former United States open and P.G.A. king, was seven up at the end of 36 holes Saturday and boosted his margin to 11 up at the end of 54 holes Sunday. He had a four-under par 67 in his final trip yesterday while Wood matched par with a 71.

Although they played out the string in the afternoon, the match was officially concluded at the sixth hole in the final round. In the final trip Nelson had a 70 to Wood's 74.

Nelson's victory was worth $2,500, which was posted by Inverness club members.

Wood challenged Nelson after the latter was voted "America's No. 1 golfer" by contestants in the Golden Valley invitational tournament in Minneapolis.

Maintenance Dept. Takes A.R.L. Horse Shoe Tourney

Freddie Zurch led the Maintenance Department to top honors in the first annual horseshoe tournament to be staged at Aircraft Repair Sunday. Zurch won the singles title from Wilbur Orr, Sheet Metal, while Alex Bremner, George Paul and Al Zurch, balance of the Maintenance squad, garnered the remainder of the 26 points which gave them the prize. The meet was sponsored by A.R.L. Recreation Council's Sport Association.

Bill Rogers and Albert Calvert took the doubles laurels when they edged out R. Dunkin and B. LeFeuvre, Radiators, with 50-49 finish count. The Rogers-Calvert episode helped put Assembly Floor No. 2 in second standing with 16 points. Radiator Department was in third spot with 14 counters.

Surprising turn in the event came when Freddie Zurch defeated George Paul 51-26 in the 4th round of the singles. Two months ago Freddie didn't know the first thing about throwing the metal cleats. It was George who showed him how to get the fair percentage of ringers. Every night after the 4 p.m. whistle the two would spend a couple of hours at the A.R.L. pitches, George showing Freddie tricks of the trade. Freddie showed how seriously he took his lessons by handsomely trouncing his teacher by that 51-26 count.

So heavy was the play during the day that it took five rounds to bring out a singles winner, and four to decide doubles. After six hours of 24 bronco bouts in almost constant action here's the way the scoring tabulation looked:

Four Survive—Detroit Softball

DETROIT, Sept. 20—Four unbeaten finalists emerged from the elimination rounds in two divisions of the Amateur Softball Association "world series" last night.

Competition ends tonight with Detroit Briggs Bombers, 1942 runners-up to the Tulsa, Okla., team that was unrepresented this year, playing with a service team from Hammer Field, Calif., for the men's crown.

In the women's division, the New Orleans Jax will defend their title against a Phoenix, Ariz., team that has beaten all opponents. A Detroit women's team won four straight games yesterday, only to bow to Phoenix, 2-1, in the semi-finals.

Canada's entrants in the 11th annual world softball championships put up a real fight before bowing out of the series after four rounds of competition.

The best effort was produced by the Army Dental Corps of Toronto which fought through five games before being eliminated. The struggle they put up with only 12 players available made one of the highlights of the tournament.

The Western Mutuals of Vancouver, won its first two games in the girls' division before dropping the next two and getting out of the competition. They tripped Cleveland 3-1 and Moose Jaw before losing to the champion Jax of New Orleans, 6-2, and Detroit by the same score.

Toronto's Sunday Morning Class, another girls' entry, also went four rounds before dropping out.

Moose Jaw trimmed Providence, R.I., 4-0, then dropped a decision to the Vancouver team, 3-2, and to Peoria, 2-0.

All the Canadian teams now have been eliminated.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—American racing, playing to the biggest mutuel handles in the history of the turf, is menaced by the scarcity of exercise boys—boys who are given scarcely a nod of recognition in normal times.

The betting may increase during the next year or two on mediocre mounts, but the improvement of the breed will suffer a serious set-back due to the absence of the proper kind of little fellows to ride the thoroughbreds at dawn.

And this lack of boys—this lack of training for young mounts—will cause even the big stables, like Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree project to dispose of their stock at bargain prices. You've just got to have proper exercise boys to develop young horses, and to keep the older ones in shape.

USING OLDER RIDERS

IN normal times, an exercise boy gets about $150 a month—and is satisfied because he loves the horses. His best age ranges from 18 to 24 years old, and his weight should not pass 110 pounds. But now they are glad to get exercise boys of 40 years and scaling up to 140. And they can't get enough of them—due to wartime inroads.

We talked to Herbert Bayard Swope, chairman of the New York State Racing Commission, about this situation. He said: "We will look into it."

We became involved in this exercise boy crisis through an inquiry into the future of Eddie Arcaro, the top-flight jockey who was suspended a year ago for rough riding. He is slated to begin riding again today.

WAS DISQUALIFIED

ARCARO was disqualified after a race at New York's Aqueduct last Sept. 29 on charges of rough riding. He was riding a favorite that was bumped by No Dice in the get-away. Arcaro apparently lost his temper and gave No Dice plenty of bumps before the race was finished. Eddie then gave off much profanity before the officials' stand—in front of too many fans.

Although the Jockey Club officials realized that the main thing wrong with Arcaro was his helter-skelter determination to win, the record of other rough rides was against him, so he was knocked down for an indeterminate period that proved to be a year.

Everyone connected with racing expects that Arcaro will come back "contrite" after losing about $50,000 in potential earnings—after moving about in the dawn as an exercise boy for Mrs. Payne Whitney. And despite his temper, the Jamaica Italian probably will ride with his hands instead of his hates from now on.

Newly Crowned Champions Bow to Chicago Cubs Twice

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Both of St. Louis Cardinals' sore-arm pitchers failed Sunday as the newly crowned National League champions bowed to Chicago's Cubs, 6-0 and 10-9.

Harry Gumbert didn't last an inning of the opener and Ernie White was knocked out in the fourth frame of the second as they tested their arms for the world series.

Bill Nicholson of the Cubs hit his 33rd and 24th homers, one in each game. Cardinal Stan Musial, top batter in the league, got his 13th in the sixth inning of the second and his seven safeties in the two games ran his season total of hits to 205. No other major leaguer has reached 200.

Local Cricketers Triumph 181-129 Over Australians

In a well played game at the Golf Links yesterday afternoon, the local cricketers handed the No. 2 Air Observer School Australians a 181-129 defeat.

Feature of the play was the batting of Jack Edwards who scored 105 runs and was not out at the end of the inning. Edwards turned in one of the best innings of his career.

E. Diggins and W. B. Drever also gave a great display of hitting, both reaching double figures. Diggins counted 26 and Drever 16.

Munro and Moran, both turned in a great effort for the Aussies, the former getting 62 before being brilliantly stumped by Doug Rowley. Munro is a grand cricketer and it has been a pleasure having him here this summer. Moran played a valuable game for his side and compiled a very useful 35 runs.

Following is the box score:

10,000 at Sunderland Match

Three Teams Undefeated In North League Soccor

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(CP Cable)—Three of the 50 teams making up the football league north remained undefeated Saturday as the first month of the new soccer season ended. Big crowds attended various league matches despite the counter-attraction of the classic St. Leger race at Newmarket which drew thousands from thoughout the country.

The unbeaten and untied trio are Sunderland, Blackpool and Aston Villa. Sunderland rose into a tie for the top position by defeating Hartlepool 3-0 before a home crowd of 10,000.

Biggest crowd of the day, 18,000, saw Blackpool edge out Manchester City 2-1. Aston Villa trounced Wolverhampton 4-1 before 12,000.

Burnley dropped from the top rung by drawing 1-1 with Bury and in other matches Doncaster defeated Sheffield Wednesday 3-1 and Liverpool whipped Wrexham 5-2.

Nottingham Forest crashed into the victory column with a bang after three defeats by smashing Lincoln 8-1.

Reading and Queen's Park Rangers remained undefeated in the League South. Reading trounced Crystal Palace 5-1 and Rangers ousted Watford 3-1. Arsenal, league champion last season, stayed near the cellar by losing 2-1 to lowly Portsmouth.

Other south matches saw Aldershot defeat Luton 2-1, Fulham trounced Millwall 4-1, and Tottenham and West Ham drew 3-3, before 18,000.

Bristol leaped into a first-place tie with Lovell's Athletic in the League West by edging out Cardiff 2-1 while Lovell's was losing 3-2 to Aberman.

Dougie Wallace, a South African forward, scored all Clyde's goals as they trimmed Airdrieonians 5-1. In the Northeastern League the leading Raith Rovers defeated Hearts 3-2.

Senators Sweep Twin Bill To Stretch Victory Streak

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Washington Senators stretched their victory streak to nine straight yesterday by sweeping a doubleheader with the American League-leading New York Yankees, winning 3-2 in the 10-inning opener and 5-1 in the nightcap before a crowd of 30,851.

By their twin triumph, the second-place Senators broke even with the Yanks in the season's series at 11 each and retained a mathematical chance of taking the loop pennant.

Michigan Comes Through Against Camp Grant 26-0

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Michigan came through as expected in its opening football game Saturday but its 26-0 workout at the expense of the Camp Grant soldiers was overshadowed by the performances of Purdue and Duke.

Purdue defeated the vaunted eleven from the Great Lakes, 23-13, compared to the 42-0 lacing the boilermakers absorbed from the same sailors a year ago.

Duke mastered the camp Lejeune Marines 40-0 in a display of power that netted at least one touchdown in every period against a line that averaged 211 pounds from tackle to tackle.

Elroy Hirsch, Wisconsin's contribution to the Michigan eleven, counted twice and Bill Daley, Minnesota's gift, once. The defeat followed by one week the Camp Grant victory over Illinois, 23-0.

The point after touchdown brought Cornell a 7-6 verdict over Bucknell. Rochester mastered Yale 14-12.

B.C. Lacrosse

NEW WESTMINSTER, Sept. 19.—(CP)—New Westminster Salmonbellies defeated Vancouver Burrards 10-14 in the first game of the best of seven inter-city lacrosse finals here Saturday night.

Down three goals in the first three minutes of play, the fishmen got into gear thereafter and held command throughout.

Italy's Defeat Acclaimed by Haile Selassie

On the day that Italy surrendered the Associated Press asked one of Fascism's greatest victims—Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia—to express his sentiments. His reply is the basis for the following dispatch.—EDITOR.

ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 17—(AP)—(Delayed) — Haile Selassie, Emperor of Ethiopia, today hailed the collapse of Italy as a bright signal that the overthrow of the other enemies of civilization is near.

In a statement for the Associated Press, the Emperor, whose country once was thrown to its knees by Italian conquerors, said there never could have been peace or justice in the world so long as Fascism endured.

Text of his statement:

Two years after the defeat of the Italian armies in East Africa and five months after the end of the North African campaign Fascism has completely collapsed.

SPECIAL SATISFACTION

Here in Ethiopia there is special satisfaction that the whole fabric of Mussolini's regime has crumbled.

There could never have been peace or justice in the world so long as that regime of force and brutality existed. That is why the defeat of Mussolini's government demands also the overthrow of Hitler's regime and Japan's tyranny.

What has happened in Italy is an assurance that the overthrow of the other enemies of civilization is very near.

Signed, Haile Selassie, Emperor.

—R.C.A.F. Photo

These five Royal Canadian Air Force men were members of a flying boat crew which turned from patrol duty over a convoy to make a mercy flight, saving the life of an American seaman. When Seaman First Class John Robert Defee was stricken with appendicitis aboard ship in the North Atlantic, the Senior Naval Officer of the convoy appealed to the patrolling plane for aid. The aircraft landed in a rough sea, picked up the sailor, and flew him to land where an operation saved his life. Left to right in the picture are Sgt. Melville Reading, Millet, Alta., flight engineer; Sgt. Bruce Parrick, 18 Winfield Ave., Toronto, navigator; Flying Officer R. H. "Bob" Burrage, 2633 Silver Ave., Burnaby, B.C., wireless air gunner; Pilot Officer Ernie Little, 940 University Drive, Saskatoon, co-pilot; and Flying Officer Norman Koester, Virden, Man., pilot and captain of the crew. Other crew members were Sgt. John William Wood, Pense, Sask., wireless air gunner, and Sgt. Allan H. Evans, 70 Charles St. E., Toronto, engineer.

Under Eyes of Germans

By CLARK LEE
Representing the Combined United States Press
Distributed by the Canadian Press

AT AN ADVANCED ALLIED COMMAND POST, Sept. 17.—(Delayed)—It was disclosed today that two high-ranking American officers made a daring visit to Rome under the eyes of the Germans only a few hours before the Allied invasion of Salerno and returned safely after conferring with Marshal Pietro Badoglio and Italian military commanders.

The two officers went into the Italian capital wearing American army uniforms, minus caps, and spent 20 hours in the most important anti-military discussions. Most of the time they travelled in a car, frequently passing within a few feet of German soldiers.

The exact nature of their mission was not disclosed.

They obtained vital information which has affected the whole course of events since the Italian armistice announcement.

RISKED EXECUTION

The officers, who voluntarily carried out their dangerous assignment in the full knowledge that discovery would have meant certain execution by the Germans, were Brig-Gen. Maxwell Taylor, formerly of Kansas City, Mo., and Col. William Tudor Gardiner, a former governor of Maine.

The left Palermo, Sicily, in a British P-T boat and made rendezvous at sea with an Italian corvette, on which they were greeted by an Italian admiral who landed them one evening last week south of Rome.

It was agreed that, to divert suspicion from onlookers, they would be treated as if they were American airmen picked up from a wrecked plane in the Mediterranean. And on their arrival at Gaeta they hurried down the gangplank into a waiting race runabout, which consisted of Italian sailors stood at the docks.

The car crept through Rome's blacked-out streets for a quarter-mile, when suddenly a sentry challenged. The car halted and the sentry walked over, flashed a light into the backseat of the car. The Italian general who was driving, feigning casualness, which certainly he did not feel, produced credentials which satisfied the sentry and he allowed them to proceed. This was repeated seven or eight times en route to Badoglio's home.

RECEIVED BY BADOGLIO

Badoglio received the Americans in the study of his ornate villa. The marshal, whose personal situation was highly dangerous because of the armistice plans, looked tired and old.

A brief and pointed conversation followed, at the end of which Badoglio took Taylor's hand and, with tears in his eyes, said:

"I swear on my honor and my 35 years as a soldier of my loyalty to the Allied cause."

Passage by plane was arranged for the Americans' return.

Just before they turned into Ciampino airport their car passed a squad of German infantry marching along the road so close, Taylor said, that I could have reached out the window and tapped them on the shoulder—needless to say I didn't."

The plane landed safely at a North African airfield after a two-hour trip from Rome.

Fuel Controllers In All Provinces Being Considered

OTTAWA, Sept. 20.—(CP)—Plans looking to the appointment of a deputy coal and wood controller for each province now are under consideration here, it was learned last night, in an effort to relieve the fuel situation throughout Canada. It is understood that the controllers, whose names have yet to be announced, will serve without remuneration.

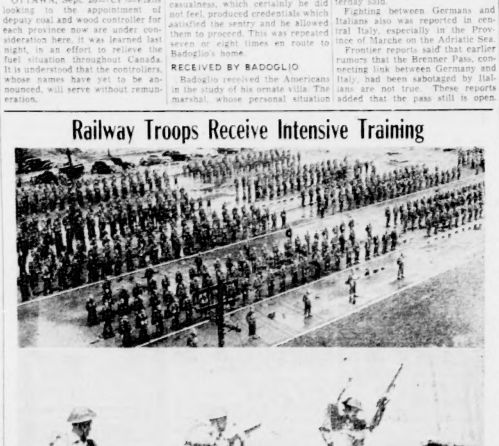

Italian Alpine Troops Reported Battling Nazis

CHIASSO, on the Italian-Swiss Frontier, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Italian Alpine troops in the upper Dora Baltea river basin in the extreme northwestern portion of Italy are engaged in stiff fighting with the Germans, reports reaching here yesterday said.

Fighting between Germans and Italians also was reported in central Italy, especially in the Province of Marche on the Adriatic Sea.

Frontier reports said that earlier rumors that the Brenner Pass, connecting link between Germany and Italy, had been sabotaged by Italians are not true. These reports added that the pass still is open.

Railway Troops Receive Intensive Training

Great Advances In Radio Seen When War Ends

Television, static-free reception, more life-like reproduction, more positive reception of far distant stations and entirely new systems of broadcasting are some of the advances that will be made in the radio industry when that industry turns from its present 100 per cent war effort to commercial production, M. M. Elliott, Montreal, general sales manager, Canadian Marconi company, stated in an interview here Monday.

Mr. Elliott, who is making a tour of western Canada, said that these changes would not be made immediately following the termination of hostilities, but would be made available to the users of radio as the industry reorganized itself on a peace time basis.

"The question uppermost wherever radio is discussed is, "What kind of sets will be available when the lights go on after the blackout? With hundreds of thousands of Canadian radios being worn out, owners want to know what post-war replacements will be like and how soon they will be on the market," Mr. Elliott replied.

MANY DEVELOPMENTS

"Let me answer that in this way. No industry has gone to war more completely than the radio manufacturers. Every development engineer has done overtime duty, some in their research laboratories, others in the air or at sea. I doubt if you would find in all Canada a radio engineer who has had time to do any thinking about purely peacetime products.

"The manufacturing end of the industry has expanded five or six times. Wartime research and manufacturing has stopped any normal activity, but the experience gained will mean new horizons when that new brain power goes to work on sets and broadcasting for the home," Mr. Elliott stated.

"Many men who were close associates of Marconi when he pioneered the industry are still employed by the Canadian Marconi company. These men all say that radio stands on the threshold of as great developments as it did in 1900—that the public will probably get more personal benefit out of the new inventions than they did out of the basic pioneering.

"Some things definitely on the way are: television, static-free reception, more life-like reproduction, more positive reception of far distant stations, entirely new systems of broadcasting.

"I would say that the Canadian who is looking forward to replacing his old radio with the newest post-war model will find there different types of receivers available —the set adapted to local broadcasting, plus a receiving set covering broadcasting under the existing system known as amplitude modulation, and plus a set covering frequency modulation technique which absolutely eliminates static and is perfection itself. A set combining A.M. and F.M. reception plus television; lastly, the set which combines all these radio facilities with record reproduction. One thing is certain, the radio will be as much a standard part of the automobile as the carburetor, Mr. Elliott stated.

GREATER VALUE

"Canadians can look forward, I anticipate, to more radio value per dollar. The technical advances of wartime, plus the greater mass production facilities in a factory like that of Canadian Marconi mean that sets will furnish more for the money spent.

"There will be an entirely new world of entertainment, some of it contributed by television, much of it by improved transmission of foreign broadcasts and a greater desire that everyone should be able to participate in the best the world has to offer," he said.

"The industry will need to retool and develop for peace, but the driving force of the industry will be harnessed and amazing things will result. The ability of the industry to meet the peace-time challenge of those who expect great things can be judged from its war-time performance.

"Take the case of the Marconi plant in Montreal where about 600 were employed before the war. We now stand at 2,500—all highly-skilled men and women. Our cafeteria has to serve 40,000 meals a month—everything is on a heightened scale. Canadians, of course, will reap the benefits of this greater production after the war when the post-war Marconi radio sets will give to the listener all the benefits of the vast research which has resulted from war.

TANK PLANT SETS

"Canadian radio plants have manufactured two-way radio sets for tanks; receivers for use between aircraft and aircraft and base; and aircraft and short base; we have turned out entire radio stations, direction finding stations for use on treacherous coasts, everything in the way of radio equipment from that used on a battleship to the tiny portable carried by the commando as he dashes into enemy territory via seashore or parachute, Mr. Elliott said.

"Canadian radio equipment is made for the use of any of the Allied nations anywhere. For example, some equipment we turn out in the Marconi factory bears instruction plaques in several languages. It may turn up in French Africa or Russia. Some equipment is tested to withstand 120 degrees of heat and 50 degrees below zero; good for use anywhere from Iceland to India.

"Military secrecy makes it necessary to leave much detail aside; but enough can be said for all Canadians to be really proud of the contribution their radio industry has made to the cause of the United Nations," he concluded.

On Inspection

M. M. Elliott, Montreal, general sales manager, Canadian Marconi Company, who arrived in Edmonton Sunday in the course of an inspection trip.

Daylight Aerial Blows Continue

By PUGH MOORE

LONDON, Sept. 20.— (AP) — Great formations of Allied planes piled back and forth across the English Channel all day yesterday, and early last night strongly-escorted bombers thundered eastward to carry the new round-the-clock offensive into its fifth day and night.

R.A.F. Typhoon bombers struck at airfields at Merville, in northern France, and Woensdrecht, in the Netherlands. Later R.A.F. medium bombers attacked industrial targets near Bethune, France. American mediums showered explosives on an important Nazi fighter base at Lille.

The R.C.A.F. Red Indian fighter squadron provided part of the escort in the Bethune raid and one of its pilots—Flt. Lt. Robert A. Buckham returned to operations after a rest of less than a week.

Other R.C.A.F. squadrons helped escort the bombers which attacked Lille airfield.

Urges MacArthur Be Made Leader

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, South Pacific, Sept. 18.—(Delayed) —(AP)—United States Senator Albert B. Chandler (Dem.-Ky.) today urged appointment of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as supreme Allied commander in the Pacific and Asia. Chandler, on a tour of the war zone with a group of other senators, said he would return to the United States with a message to the Senate and American people that the war effort against Japan must be increased.

He advocated a unified command for the Pacific and Asia, including Burma, India and China, and said his personal choice was MacArthur, with whom he conferred recently. Chandler said he had heard criticisms of MacArthur in recent days, but refused to give details.

He praised MacArthur as a great military leader and said:

"I'm sold on his ability as a fighter and as a leader he represents our best chance of winning the war against Japan."

C.C.F. Declared Most Dangerous Political Group

GRANBY, Que., Sept. 20.—(CP)—Delegates to the today 22nd annual meeting of the Confederation Des Travailleurs Catholiques Du Canada (Confederation of Catholic Workers of Canada) were told yesterday that "the C.C.F. is the most dangerous political party in Canada at the present time."

Speaking at a banquet that preceded the official opening of the meeting last night, J. H. Leclerc, Liberal member of parliament for Shefford, said: "I want to point out to all honest and sincere workers and their leaders that the C.C.F. the most dangerous political party in Canada at the present time, was officially endorsed last week in Montreal by another labor convention. This you should bear in mind not only now but at all times."

Bishop Arthur Douville of St. Hyacinthe told delegates "not to affiliate, like certain other labor unions, with political parties."

Furniture Burns In Dwelling Fire

A chesterfield was destroyed, a hole was burned in the floor, and walls of the home of H. H. Chandler, 12914 121 street, were damaged in a blaze shortly before midnight, Saturday. The owner intimated that the loss, covered by insurance, would amount to between $1,200 and $1,500.

Mr. Chandler stated that he had been away from the house during the evening, and that upon arriving home, found the place in flames.

A chesterfield was destroyed, while a hole was burned in the floor nearby. Walls were scorched and the paint was blistered, while a wall between the living room and the bathroom was also damaged. Halls 2 and 5 responded to the call.

Two other minor blazes, one in a chimney and a second in some bush, were responsible for weekend calls. A third proved to be a false alarm.

Community Chest Response Is Good

Annual appeal for community chest contributions is meeting with a highly satisfactory reception, officials of the campaign stated Saturday, announcing that $18,638.84 has been collected up until the office closed Friday.

Cash income from sales of Alberta farm products from January to June, 1943, was $91,742,000, compared with $66,-419,000 for the same period last year, the provincial department of agriculture reported Monday.

Field crops accounted for $29,-222,000 of the total, while livestock products were valued at $62,371,000 and miscellaneous products brought $149,000. In the same period of 1942, field crops brought in $11,494,000; livestock products, $54,776,000, and miscellaneous, $146,000.

Itemized, the cash income for farm products this year are as follows, for the six-month period ending June: (1942 figures in brackets) —wheat, $19,066,000, ($8,777,000); oats $8,264,000 ($1,327,000); barley $2,246,000, ($464,000); flax, $538,000, (213,000); rye, $354,000, ($49,000); other field crops, $654,000, ($464,000); totals, $29,222,000, ($11,494,000).

Cattle and calves, $16,209,000, ($13,823,000); sheep and lambs, $1,145,000, ($936,000); hogs, $31,910,000, ($27,312,000); dairy products, $9,429,000, ($7,833,000); poultry and eggs, $3,077,000, ($3,353,000); miscellaneous livestock products, $1,501,000, ($1,719,000); livestock totals, $62,-371,000, ($54,776,000).

ONLY DECREASE

Only decreases in product values shown are in poultry and egg production, down $276,000 from the same period of last year, and in miscellaneous livestock products, down by $218,000.

Large gain in cash income was scored by wheat sales, which were up $10,280,000 over last year's figures, to the $19,000,000 mark.

Three Degrees Frost Here Over Week-End

Frost Saturday night, when the temperature sank to 29 degrees, was followed by bright sunshine and warm weather Sunday. Edmonton citizens took the best advantage of the sunshine to play golf, tennis and other outdoor games. The autumn colored leaves were reminders that there will not be many more such days this year. The maximum temperature Sunday was 64 degrees and there was no frost Sunday night, with a minimum temperature of 42 degrees. There was some rain at 1:15 a.m. this morning which continued until 2 o'clock but precipitation was only .01 of an inch.

Inspects C.W.A.C.

Lt.-Col. Margaret Eaton, assistant adjutant-general of the C.W.A.C., who has just returned from an inspection trip to the C.W.A.C. camp at Vermilion. She will visit the C.W.A.C. centre in Edmonton Monday and Tuesday. On Wednesday she will visit the camps in Red Deer, Camrose and Wetaskiwin. She will return to the city Thursday before continuing her Canadian tour.

A-R-O-U-N-D THE TOWN

Making the third case of poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) to be reported here during 1943, the city health department received a report Monday of a city case of this dread disease. The victim of the disease is a three-year-old child, but Dr. G. M. Little, medical health officer, said that the attack is a light one. The child has been placed in the Isolation hospital and is progressing favorably.

The National Liberal Federation meeting in Ottawa Sept. 27 will be attended by several Edmonton Liberals, it was learned on Monday. Among those expected to attend are Gerald O.Connor, K.C., Nelles V. Buchanan, K.C., Mrs. J. B. Stewart, president of the Edmonton Women's Liberal Club. Mrs. Cora T. Casselman, Liberal M.P. for Edmonton East, will also attend.

Week of October 18-23 has been set for junior club judging contests throughout Alberta, it was announced Monday. Winners of these preliminary contests, which will decide "zone" championships, will compete later at Edmonton for the provincial championships. Provincial winners will be eligible to compete in national contests at Toronto, to be held the week of Nov. 22, when all provinces will be represented and Dominion winners chosen.

Revenue from the city telephone department for the period Jan. 1 to Sept. 13 amounted to $653,701.38 compared with $574,739.51 for the same period last year, an increase of $80,961.87, according to a report filed Monday with the city commissioners by Robert Christie, superintendent, city telephone system. On Sept. 13 this year there were 13,869 esidential and 9,755 business telephones in service compared with 13,224 residential and 8,583 business telephones on the same day last year.

The tag day held Saturday raised the sum of $2,152 to provide comforts for the Edmonton men fighting in Italy. The money will be used for Christmas parcels and cigarettes. The women's auxiliaries to four Edmonton units sponsored the tagging, with Mrs. G. E. Goodall as convener. The units were 9th Army Troops Company, Royal Canadian Engineers, Edmonton contingent of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals, 4th Casualty Clearing Station, R.C.A.M.C., 14th Canadian Army Tank Regiment.

Another Edmonton family is letting loose with a double-barrelled salvo at the enemy. Gordon and Roy Tucker, each 18 and one-half years old, of 9630 111 avenue, are Edmonton-born twins who were sworn in for service with the R.C.A.F. at No. 3 recruiting centre Monday. Sons of Mr. and Mrs. A. Tucker of this city the boys are not identical twins, so they won't be able to fool their drill sergeants so badly as twins who look exactly alike. Father of the twins is a veteran of the First Great War, having been wounded while serving with an infantry unit from Saskatchewan. The boys received most of their schooling in the Tofield district.

Damage estimated at between $1,-200 and $1,500 was caused by fire of unknown origin to the home of H. H. Chandler, 9244 121 street, Saturday night. The Chandler family summoned the fire department about 11:30 p.m. when they returned to their home and found it ablaze. The fire appeared to have started in a chesterfield, which was destroyed. Walls and floors were badly damaged and paint blistered, as the fire had made considerable headway before it was discovered.

Power production at the city power plant from Sept. 1 to Sept. 12, 1943, totalled 69,076,100 kilowatt hours compared with 57,840,800 for the same period last year, according to a report filed Monday with the city commissioners by Robert G. Watson, power superintendent. Of the 1943 production the electric light department consumed 54,964,-300 kilowatt hours, the street railway system, 8,717,700 and the pumping plant 5,394,100 kilowatt hours. For the 1942 peiod the electric light department's consumption was 46,-316,000 kilowatt hours, the street railway's 6,680,000 and the pumping plant, 4,844,800 kilowatt hours.

C.W.A.C. Takes Responsibility For More Work

"The C.W.A.C. is definitely passed the teething stage. Every day it is taking the responsibility for more and more important work and will now develop much faster", Lt. Col. Margaret Eaton, assistant adjutant-general of the C.W.A.C. stated here in an interview Monday.

She has just returned from an inspection trip to the C.W.A.C. station at Vermilion where she said she found "an extremely happy atmosphere", and was favorably impressed with the recruits.

Lt.-Col. Eaton holds very few formal reviews, preferring to interview the girls at their work or in their barracks. Her chief interest lies in the well-being of the women and she feels the only way to pick up suggestions which might add to their happiness is to talk to the girls and really get to know them. It is important to have every recruit employed at the work to which she is best suited and which is most needed.

"Our present ceiling," she continued, "is 25,000, and we're going to need every one of those recruits, and need them badly. The war is not over by any means and as more and more men are sent overseas, positions are going to be left open which must be filled by members of the C.W.A.C. It makes me feel good to walk into a large administration office and find that the officer in charge and a good percentage of the staff are C.W.A.C.'s. That's the way it should be." She pointed out that in Wetaskiwin and Edmonton the officers in charge of the Army Service Corps' supply depots are women and that they are doing a splendid job. These positions were previously held by men who have now been released for overseas duty.

ONLY ONE VOICE

A daughter of Col. R. Y. Eaton, former president of the T. Eaton Co., and Mrs. Eaton, of Toronto, she enlisted in the C.W.A.C. in September, 1941. Asked why she chose the army she smiled and said, "As far as I was concerned there just didn't seem to be any other service. I guess we're pretty much an army family." Col. Eaton is honorary colonel of a regiment, one brother, Capt. Erskine Eaton was killed in action at Dieppe; another, Maj. J. W. Eaton, is with the Canadian Army Service Corps, and a third brother, Alan is a lieutenant with the Royal Canadian Artillery. She has one sister who is married and living in Toronto while her husband is on active service overseas.

Before enlisting, Lt.-Col. Eaton, was an active member of the Canadian Red Cross. She helped organize the office administration section and was in charge of it for some time. This was organized to make the best use of business girls' talents, so that even before she joined the army she had plenty of experience in seeing that square pegs weren't forced into round holes.

DIRECT APPOINTMENT

When she enlisted in 1941 Lt.-Col. Eaton received a direct appointment ment as staff officer to M.D. 2. Later she was sent to national defence headquarters at Ottawa, and later served at M.D. 4 in Montreal. She received her majority last July and accompanied Maj.-Gen. Knox of the W.A.A.C. of Great Britain on her Canadian tour. In December of last year she went overseas on a service attachement to the A.T.S. Returning to Canada this year she received her present appointment and promotion to the rank of lieutenant-colonel.

She said the work of the Canadian girls overseas is much the same as it is here and greatly appreciated. She attended the opening of the C.W.A.C. barracks at Washington, D.C., recently, and said the girls there are also making an impression with their excellent work.

Lt. Col. Eaton will inspect the C.W.A.C. establishment in Edmonton on Monday and Thursday. Tuesday and Wednesday she will visit the camps at Wetaskiwin, Camrose and Red Deer.

In City For Two-Day Visit

EARL OF ATHLONE

H.R.H. PRINCESS ALICE

His Excellency the Earl of Athlone, Governor-General of Canada, and Princess Alice, who arrived here over the N.A.R. at 7:40 a.m. Monday for a two-day visit. They have visited the Pacific coast and the Alaska Highway.

Governor-General Arrives In City for 2-Day Visit; Completes Northland Tour

His Excellency the Earl of Athlone, K.G., P.C., G.C.B., G.M.M.G., G.C.V.O., D.S.O., LL.D., Governor-General of Canada, and H.R.H. the Princess Alice, arrived in Edmonton at 7:40 a.m. Monday over Northern Alberta Railway lines from Dawson Creek and Grande Prairie.

Arriving here for a two-day visit after crossing Alaska inspecting the Alaska Highway by air, the Governor-General and party will inspect Canadian and American military installations, members of the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, attend receptions arranged by high officials here. Highlights of the visit will be presentation to His Excellency of an honorary Doctor of Laws degree, at a special convocation of the University of Alberta.

In His Excellency's party are his secretary, Sir Shuldham Redfern, K.C.V.O., and Miss Vera Grenfell, lady-in-waiting to Princess Alice.

Lt.-Col. F. A. Stewart Dunn will be honorary aide-de-camp to His Excellency for the two-day stopover here.

The vice-regal party arrived in Dawson Creek, B.C., last Thursday, and stayed there until Saturday, when it left for Grande Prairie. The Alaska visit was begun by boat from Prince Rupert, B.C., to Skagway, and then by train to Whitehorse, where Brig-Gen. James O'-Connor, commanding officer of the Northwest Service Command, United States Army, met the party. Then His Excellency flew to Fairbanks and over the whole length of the Alaska Highway, stopping at various points along its route.

Monday's program for the vice-regal visitors is as follows: 10:15 a.m., inspection at No. 2 Air Observer School, and the airport; 11:15 a.m., inspection of the United States Army station hospital.

At 2:30 p.m. His Excellency will receive his honorary degree at the university, followed at 3:30 p.m. by inspection of the soldiers wing of the University hospital. A reception given by the Students' Union university president, follows at 4:30 p.m., and final engagement for Monday is an official dinner at the Macdonald hotel, at which the Hon. or Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen will be host.

LEAVES CAR

When His Excellency left his private railway car, which was moved to the C.P.R. station, he inspected a guard of honor from H.M.C.S. Nonsuch, under command of Sub-Lt. W. R. Pidhirney. The guard was resplendent in gleaming "whites," the navy's summer uniform.

Meeting the Governor-General at the station as he began his tour of duty were Lt.-Gov. Bowen and Mrs. Bowen; Premier Ernest Manning and all provincial cabinet ministers; Mayor John W. Fry; Col. W. F. W. Hancock, assistant commissioner Royal Canadian Mounted Police; Col. Dale L. Gaffney, commanding officer Alaskan Wing United States Army Air Forces; Maj. Ben Pearse, U.S.A.A.F., and Maj. C. V. Dacre, secretary to Lt.-Gov. Bowen.

Police Probing Cause of Death Visitor in City

Neil McNeil, Breton, died about one hour after being admitted to the Royal Alexandra hospital at 9:45 p.m. Saturday, from causes unknown.

McNeil, first observed by Constable Charles H. Duff, of the city police department, as the former sat with his back to the wall of a grocery store at 103 avenue and 96 street, about 8:30 p.m., had appeared to be "unsteady", it was stated. An unknown man and woman offered to take the man home and give him a cup of coffee, according to a police report.

McNeil also was reported by Frances Bilensky, 9533 106 avenue, as lying in the lane at the rear of a building at 10305 97 street, and on investigation, police found two pools of blood in the lane at that point.

It appeared, continued a police statement that the injured man, who had been assisted by Lloyd Thomas, Paradise Valley, had fallen on the sidewalk.

SCALP WOUND

McNeil was taken to the Royal Alexandra hospital where it was found necessary to place three stitches in a wound in his scalp. Just over an hour later, authorities were notified that he was dead.

At the hospital, police were informed that the cause of death was not known, but that the man had received a cut on the left side of the head and bruises over and beneath the left eye.

Dr. E. A. Braithwaite, chief provincial coroner, was notified, and ordered the body to be placed in the morgue. Police are investigating.

Car Is Stolen

Juicy Apples Are Produced North Alberta

The experimental station at Beaverlodge has proved that not only is Northern Alberta the best wheat-growing country in the world but it may also someday become a prolific apple-growing country. The station is now harvesting a crop of fine, juicy, apples, which ought to put an end to all doubts about the practicability of growing apples in Northern Alberta.

Man, Wife Hurt When Auto Hits Side of Bridge

Mr. and Mrs. William Pearce of Ardrossan were in Royal Alexandra hospital Saturday night, while a brother-in-law, Ivor Thomas, 7921 114 avenue, was taken to the University hospital, suffering from injuries received when the auto in which they were riding, crashed into a concrete side of a bridge about one-quarter of a mile west of Bremner store, about 9 p.m.

According to R.C.M.P. authorities, Pearce, his wife, his brother-in-law, and two other men, were driving from Ardrossan toward Edmonton. Pearce was bringing Thomas back to his home in the city.

CRASH OCCURS

As they reached the bridge, the auto crashed into the concrete side, forcing the driver against the wheel, injuring his chest and cutting his face. Thomas, who was also in the front seat, was cut about the right eye by glass from the windshield, which was smashed in the impact. Mrs. Pearce, who was in the back seat, received facial cuts and a bruised knee.

Brought into Edmonton by a passing motorist, the injured people were admitted to hospital, where their conditions Sunday night were stated to be considerably improved.

U.S. Army Induction Notice

Michael Alan MacGregor is probably on record as being the youngest lad to ever receive an induction notice from a Selective Service Board in the U.S.A.

In the item column MacGregor stipulated quantity one, model No. 1943. In the description column he specified INFANT COMPLETE, Name Michael Alan; Kind, Male; Chassis length, 21 inches, weight, eight pounds eight ounces.

Complete assembly to consist of two blue eyes, two lung power. MacGregor agreed to terms of $150 a month for eighteen years or a total cost of $32,400, and he stipulated that the bid was accepted from the only source available for delivery.

Shortly afterwards MacGregor received an "Order to Report for Induction." It was addressed to his young son and came from T. McGinty, clerk of the Selective Service Board. It was official up to the last line which said:

"You will therefore report to the local board at home at bedtime on the first day and each and every day for the next eighteen years, so help you God."

Visits Friends

N. A. (Nick) MacPhee, formerly manager of the Edmonton Breweries, Ltd., here, and well-known in sporting circles, who arrived in Edmonton over the week-end from Spokane, Wash., for a short vacation. Mr. MacPhee was president of the local sports Booster Club and the Edmonton Senior Baseball League before leaving the city more than three years ago.

Clothing Is Taken From City Hotel

Clothing valued at almost $100 was taken from his hotel room, Basil Fleming, guest of an Edmonton hotel, informed city police Sunday. He said entry had been gained by using a skeleton key.

Police, investigating, learned that articles of clothing taken included an overcoat worth $35, a raincoat, valued at $10, a pair of trousers, worth $10, and a $2 pair of gloves.

Authorities were of the opinion that the room had been entered by means of a window near the fire escape. The window was not secured by any catch.

Fleming stated that he was out of the room between 1 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. Saturday, during which time the place was entered.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Widow With Children Worries Over Future

They Should Support Mother If She Did a Good Job; But She Must Protect Herself; Look Out for Own Interests

"DEAR DOROTHY DIX: What has a mother a right to expect of her children? I was left a widow with five children, and I struggled hard and valiantly to rear and educate them. I succeeded beautifully, and when I look at the product of my labor and self-sacrifice I am pleased. They are all big, healthy persons earning their own living.

Now I am 54 and still working every day. I have my beautiful suburban home, but that is all. The depression and children took everything else. I am wondering if I became sick and unable to work what would become of me? What could I expect of my children? Should I go to the city hospital? Or sell my home and take the money for myself?

What is a woman who has given the best years of her life to the rearing of her children, and who has done a good job, to do when she reaches my stage of life?

WORRIED."

ANSWER: If she has really done a good job rearing her children she does not need to be worried about what will become of her, because her sons and her daughters will consider it a privilege to take care of their mother. If you have brought up your children to honor and admire you, look up to you, be unselfish towards you, and to feel their responsibility, you have taken out the best old-age insurance that is possible. Your children will always cherish you and share their last crumb with you.

But if you have been one of the doormat mothers who have let their children walk over them and kick them around; if you have been nothing but a slave to your youngsters and made them selfish brats, who think you are only good to wait upon and serve them, then, indeed, you had better begin looking out for a place in an old ladies' home.

But I must pay this tribute to modern youth, which is so often disrespectful to parents, and which flouts the advice and defies the control of what it calls "my old lady" and "my old man." Deep down under its callousness the sacred tie that binds parents and children together still holds and it is the exception, rather than the rule, when sons and daughters shut their doors in old peoples' faces when they are in need.

I get hundreds of letters from boys and girls who are in love and want to marry, but who cannot do so because they are not making enough to support two families, and they have old parents to take care of, too. They feel their duty to parents before their own happiness, and they make the sacrifice cheerfully without posing as heroes or martyrs. Men and boys took care of them when they were little and they are taking care of their parents when they are old and helpless. That's all.

But admirable as mother devotion is, it is one of the virtues that can very easily turn into a vice, and it does this when a woman sacrifices everything to her children and demands nothing from them in return. Every mother should cultivate a certain amount of intelligent selfishness and salvage something of her life for herself, instead of giving everything to her children. If she has to work, she should make the youngsters, even when they are little, have their chores and help her as far as possible. She shouldn't come home after a hard day's labor and get dinner for a lot of husky youngsters who have been playing ball for exercise, or lying on a couch reading a book, while waiting for mother to clean up the house and press their clothes.

Unless it is absolutely necessary, she should not spend every cent of the income on giving her children so-called advantages. She should, if possible, save out enough to make her independent in her old age. Far better that mother should have her own pocketbook when she is 65 than that John should have a sports car when he is 15.

And mother should keep her individual life, instead of merging all her interests in her children. She should belong to clubs, keep in touch with old friends, have her hobbies, so that when her children grow up, marry and leave her, as they will, she will not be left, all too late, nor forced to go to live with them because she has no life outside of theirs.

So I should earnestly advise you to sell your home and put the money in an annuity that will make you comfortable and free from worry, and save you from worry about the future, instead of leaving it to your children who are able to take care of themselves.

BEMOANS WAR

"DEAR MISS DIX: My finances and I are about to break up over an argument over present war conditions. She persists in ridiculing the war effort; sees no sense in buying bonds, and bemoans the sacrifices due to rationing. She says there is no sense in it and that we should be glad more, even if the army has to go without food. I am sick of attempting to reason with her and am beginning to wonder what sort of a wife she will make.

STEPHEN."

ANSWER: Well, she will make the kind of a wife who will bowl and shriek over having to do housework and being tied down with children, and who will phone her husband get up in the night and fix the baby's bottle. And she will go right along spending money, no matter how hard the times are, because she will say there is just no sense in not having what she wants, and that her husband could make more money if he wanted to.

As to her attitude towards the war and the conditions it imposes upon us, she not only talks like a silly, but shows herself utterly selfish and unpatriotic. She wants to enjoy all the comforts and luxuries to which she has been accustomed, but doesn't want to pay the price, so she simply ignores the fact that wars cost money, soldiers are expensive to maintain, they can't fight on food coupons, and that everything would go to pot if everyone acted as she does and just down and folded their hands and did nothing and gave nothing, while the Germans and the Japanese overran our country.

When we see the courage, the stamina, the uncomplaining fortitude with which the English and the Russian women face present war conditions, it should make an American woman feel like a coward and a quitter not to do her bit and the privation of a little gas and a little food.

McKenney On Bridge

BY WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

"There is no doubt that tournament players have increased their skill enormously in the last 10 years," was P. Hal Sims' comment when he congratulated Lee Hazen on the middle of—or rather, the passing—of today's hand. Ten years ago and more, Sims was the country's leading tournament player. Then he retired from tournament play and in the national championships this summer, came back to play to no events—"but he won.

Hazen passed his partner's jump to four spades. Then had a good hand, but he reasoned that if North had held an ace plus strong spade support, North would have raised the original spade bid freely, going to two spades over two diamonds. Therefore, South concluded, the opponents must have all three of the missing aces plus the king of diamonds, and would defeat the contract if four spades were bid.

Three spades were made on the nose. West took the king and ace of diamonds and the ace of hearts. East still had to get the ace of trumps. South won the other tricks.

What To Do

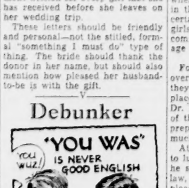

When must wedding gifts be acknowledged?

Answer—If possible they should be acknowledged on the same day they are received. Although the bride is very busy, she must find time in her hectic day to write letters of thanks for gifts. She must have letters of acknowledgment written for every gift that she has received before she leaves on her wedding trip.

These letters should be friendly and personal—not the stilted, formal "somethad I received your gift." thing. The bride should thank the donor in her name, but should also mention how pleased her husband-to-be is with the gift.

Debunker

Many people erroneously use the expression "you was" when speaking to one person, and "you were" when speaking to two persons. Such an error is inexcusable in most people for no such an expression exists in the English language as "you was". It is always "you were" whether speaking to one person or more than one. In formal speech, such as in prayers and poems, the expression "thou are" is often used for the second person, singular. People most often fall into error by replying "was you", immediately after a person has said "I was . . .". It is always "were" in all cases.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

We should express consistently by our behavior the attitude that mealtimes must be pleasant. If we do we will have less trouble interesting children in meals. Too often the effort of parents to get children to eat disliked foods of all of everything served to them make the whole ceremony a battle rather than a pleasant diversion in the day.

Mrs. B. writes her only daughter will be 4 in October. "She is a healthy child, usually good-tempered, but very stubborn. She always has been a rather fussy eater but lately we have trouble at every meal. I have well-balanced meals and my husband and I eat everything that is prepared as a good example for her.

"At every meal there is something she will not eat. She firmly announces, 'I won't eat any dinner.' When it is fruit or vegetables, which she has always disliked, and I tell her she must eat them, she says, 'No, I won't.'

"I have tried spanking her and sometimes she'll eat her dinner, but I do not exactly believe in spanking a child each meal. I have tried saving the food and sometimes after three or four meals she will eat it. But this irregularity and missing her meals doesn't do her any good. She IS hungry, what would you suggest?"

That you give her some leeway in expressing her dislikes without punishment and that you be not so determined to get YOUR way. To arouse antagonism and force the child to fight for her rights, by your own stubborn stand.

When she says, "I don't want any dinner," say lightly, "That's up to you. If you don't want to eat leave that alone."

When she refuses a vegetable tell her that all of you take a little of everything on your plates and do what you do, the same. Ignore it if she fails to eat it.

You highlight her behavior and make it exciting by your attention to it. Pretend not to notice whether she is or is not eating and failure to eat will lose all profit. You can never make mealtimes or food enjoyable so long as you make a child self-conscious about every mouthful. Just try eating yourself at a meal and see if it won't influence the child's own pleasure in it.

Your laughter, "Poor Appetites," may help to determine why any child would have a chronic aversion to food. It may be had by sending a 4-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

My Day

BY ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

CAIRNS, Aus. — We reached Cairns at sunset and the sunset and landed again so smoothly that all the men exclaimed in admiration of our pilot. He should receive commendations from high ranking officers if he continues his present record for smooth landings. I am sure that one and all are going to clamor to travel in air transport command planes.

This little town is picturesque, right on the water and pleasantly warm, though I imagine the breeze from the sea keeps one from ever getting too warm at night. We lunched at the Red Cross club for service men. It is an old hotel right on the main street and has not yet me quite adequate for present needs. I met the mayor, who later introduced me to the heads of various patriotic organizations, and the heads of the women's military auxiliary services in this area.

Here, as in other places, I received a nice letter to take back to my husband and, in addition, he gave me a tray and plaid scarf which are gifts from this neighborhood. I talked with various boys in there and in another canteen not far away and then went to some of the barracks, where the Australian girls serving in the army auxiliary live. These are comfortable, but very barrack-like girls, for their beds are no more comfortable than those of the average soldier.

For a little time we were taken over by the local showman who had they could accomplish in far-away places. I shall be glad to report to Dr. McIntyre the very good health of the men, but at the same time, preparation and equipment to do much more is necessary.

At the Red Cross club, I sat down to lunch with the club director and he said, "If you see my mother-in-law, Mrs. Wilmerding, will you please tell her that you think I am not help feeling sometimes that there are boys whom I know in the groups that I see, but they do not get a chance to make themselves known, because they may be in military formation. I wish that it might possibly be arranged that formally everywhere, so one would miss no one that had some tie or acquaintanceship.

I discovered a new reason for writing a column tonight. The Red Cross boys who run the officers' rest home where we spent the night, said that in discussing plans for our reception tonight they found themselves feeling sure that they knew my likes and dislikes, because they had read my column and felt that they knew me.

This is the first place where we have met with any mosquitoes, but here I was introduced to a bomb to drive them away. My net was carefully let down around my bed, so I would be sure not to take any mosquitoes in with me.

The full moon, the soft air and the sound of the waves breaking on the beach take me back to similar scenes in the tropical surroundings. How little I ever thought when I wandered on the moonlight beaches with my friends in South America and American men, who wanted to know what was going on at home while they fought a war thousands of miles away.

Out here there is great interest in the speed of production at home, and Australia who have been here 20 months remember facing the enemy with scarcely any plane protection. They went hungry sometimes for 24 hours, because there were not enough planes to fly them food, as well as ammunition and reinforcements. Now the picture is a very different one, but since they want to end the war, they want no lag in the flow of supplies.

9,275 Transfer More Essential Forms of Work

Arthur MacNamara, director of National Selective Service, stated yesterday that 9,275 men had been transferred to more essential employment under the compulsory employment transfer orders, up to Aug. 24, according to information made available here Monday.

Total of 7,087 men had been granted permits to return indefinitely to their previous employment, either by reason of the man's physical condition or the priority of the job held at present.

The cases of 23,236 men are being gone into further, with a view to their transfer to more essential work. These men include some cases for whom higher priority jobs have been found in their own locality, and for whom transfers to other districts have to be arranged.

Of the total of 47,529 men registered under the compulsory orders, 7,911 are returned soldiers or men with dependents, neither of these being regarded as subject to transfer under the orders issued so far.

These transfers are apart from ex-coal miners returned to the mines under separate orders.

Declares City Didn't Refuse "Day Nursery"

Denial that the city of Edmonton had turned down the application of the provincial government to participate in the operation of a "day nursery" in Edmonton was made Monday by Ald. H. D. Ainlay, who was acting mayor at the period this matter was brought to the attention of civic officials by Dr. W. W. Cross, provincial minister of health.

At that time the situation was canvassed and it was found that only six war workers were using the service provided by the city creche. Under the terms of the contract 75 per cent of the users of day nurseries" must be war workers, so therefore the city officials were of the opinion that it could not qualify under the terms of the agreement between the province and the Dominion government.

It was pointed out also by Ald. Ainlay that under the terms of the agreement the Dominion and provincial governments agreed to share 50-50 in the cost of day "nurseries." This is the agreement that exists in all other provinces where such are in operation, Ald. Ainlay said.

ATTEMPT TO SHELVE?

"It would appear from the proposal made the city by the provincial minister that it is an attempt to shelve 50 per cent of the province's commitment to the Dominion government on Alberta municipalities," he stated.

The letter from the city to the minister pointed out that the terms of the agreement appeared to exclude Edmonton from participation, and also it was stated that the creche was adequate for meeting present needs. It was stated that under these circumstances the city, for the present, does not wish to come under the agreement.

Start Re-Paving Of Intersection

Work started Monday on the re-paving and re-laying of the street railway tracks at the intersection of Jasper avenue and 101 street under the supervision of the city engineer's department.

This project, which will cost approximately $35,000, will be completed within two weeks if labor is available. There will be no interruption of street railway traffic, but it is probable that the "Owl" service will have to be suspended on one evening during the course of the work.

Vehicular traffic north and south will be suspended, and arrangements are being made to take care of pedestrian traffic at the intersection.

Miners in Britain Return to Work

NOTTINGHAM, England, Sept. 20.—(CP)—Half of 15,000 coal miners who struck in protest against the jailing of an 18-year-old boy who refused to work underground, returned to work Saturday and the mines are expected to be operating normally by Monday. The boy, after serving a week of a month's sentence, was released when he agreed to go down into the coal pit if found physically fit.

Unique Guard Under Review At No. 2 A.O.S.

A unique guard of honor, strikingly representative of the unified air forces of the United Nations, was reviewed by His Excellency the Earl of Athlone, K.G., P.C., G.C.B., G.M.M.G., G.C.V.O., S.O., LL.D., Governor-General of Canada, when he visited No. 2 Air Observer school, R.C.A.F., on Monday.

The honor guard was made up of men from the R.C.A.F., the R.A.F., R.A.A.F., the R.N.Z.A.F., and The Royal Netherlands Air Force.

Band from No. 3 "M" depot played the national anthem and general salute as the royal visitor walked to the parade ground accompanied by his staff and others of the official party. Princess Alice was not present at No. 2 A.O.S.

INTERESTED IN AUSSIES

His Excellency seemed particularly interested in the men wearing the deep blue of the Royal Australian Air Force and stopped and chatted with several. The Earl of Athlone is also a former governor-general of Australia.

After inspection of the guard of honor the vice-regal visitor climbed to the R.C.A.F. control station where he looked over equipment and watched staff personnel at work.

Next he went to the lounge of the officers mess where coffee was served.

MEETS OFFICERS

His Excellency there met several officers of the staff, including three who have served on operations overseas. These were Flt. Lt. A. W. Clifford, D.F.C., F.O. M. A. Dalphond, D.F.M. and F.O. K. Swinson, F.O. Dalphond made his escape from Nazi-occupied France. F.O. Swinson was a member of the famed Moose bombing squadron of the R.C.A.F. which participated in the great destructive raid on Saarbrucken more than a year ago.

Linseed Supply Is Major Problem

Linseed oil supply is still the major problem in the paint industry because of its importance as a food product, C. W. Baker, Montreal, general sales manager, Sherwin-Williams Co. of Canada, stated in an interview here Monday.

He is making a tour of Canada visiting the company's branches, stores and customers, and is accompanied by W. L. Wallace, Winnipeg, sales manager for Western Canada.

Linseed oil supplies for the industry have been obtained from Canadian grown flax. The domestic supply has, at times, to be augmented by importations from the Argentine, Mr. Baker said.

Paint production, he said, has been chiefly for the war effort but there has been a slight increase to meet the civilian demand under a strict rationing system. He said that the ration basis for civilian use is now 70 per cent of the basic period supply.

Mr. Baker will stop over here until Tuesday morning when he will leave to visit Saskatoon and Prince Albert. While here he conferred with A. Lewis, manager of the company's branch here.

Awaiting Opening Of Wartime Office

Information as to the probable date of the opening of an administration office here for the renting of Wartime Houses being erected by Wartime Housing Co. Ltd. is sought by Mayor John W. Fry in a letter sent Monday to Victor T. Goggin, Toronto, general manager of the company.

During a recent visit here Mr. Goggin informed Mayor Fry that the administration office would be opened when the houses are ready on September. "It is now well on toward the end of September," Mayor Fry said, "and there is no sign of the office being opened."

More than 1,000 applications have been received by the city commissioners from residents desiring to rent the 400 houses now being erected here. These applications will be handed over to the Crown company's administration officer when he arrives from Toronto, Commissioner John Hodgson stated.

Work on the erection of the houses is considerably behind the schedule, but it is expected that a speed-up will be effected through the importation of 50 carpenters from outside points.

First Lancaster Built in Canada Reaches Britain

TORONTO, Sept. 20.—(CP)—J. P. Bickell, president of Victory Aircraft Limited at nearby Malton, said Saturday that he received a cable announcing the safe arrival of the first Canadian-built Lancaster bomber in England after a trans-ocean hop last week.

The cable, sent by Air Marshal Gus Edwards, air officer commanding the R.C.A.F. overseas, said, "Have just connected with Master (Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian high commissioner in London) and Banks (C. A. Banks, representative of the munitions department in England). Lancaster KB-700. The crews tells me its behavior has been superb. To you and all your workers I send my heartiest congratulations and good wishes."

Lorna Webster Pledges Vows

The Rev. Elgin G. Turnbull officiated at the marriage Saturday evening at Knox United church, of Miss Lorna Irene Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Webster of Springwater, Sask., and Dr. Willard Dougald Persson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Persson of Stockholm, Sask.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a tea-length gown of white silk jersey, styled with Grecian pockets and sweetheart neckline. Her floor-length veil fell from a coronet of pearls and sequins, and she carried a shower bouquet of two-toned pink roses. A ivory rose in the form of a pendant, was her only piece of jewelry.

Miss Eileen Webster, sister of the bride, was an attendant. She wore a floor-length jacket gown of blue sheer. In her hair was pinned a tulle bow of matching blue, set on a horseshoe of pink roses. A bouquet of pink roses and white sweetpeas completed her ensemble.

FLOWER GIRL

Little Eileen Myles was flower girl, and was frocked in petal pink taffeta, a dress styled with full skirt and short puffed sleeves. She carried a colonial bouquet of sweetpeas.

Best man was Dr. Stanley Thompson, and ushers were Albert Webster, brother of the bride, and A. C. Wilfred Patterson, R.C.A.F., of Trail, B.C.

During the signing of the register Miss Phyllis McAllister sang "Because," and wedding music was played by Miss Sims.

The bridegroom is a 1940 graduate in veterinary science of the University of Toronto, and is at present employed as inspector for the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

MARRIED AT BISHOP'S PALACE

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Driscoll, who were married Saturday evening at the Bishop's Palace, 113 Street. The bride is the former Miss Becky Anne LaBrier, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. LaBrier of Edmonton, and the bridegroom is youngest son of Mrs. Mary Driscoll and the late John Driscoll of Minneapolis, Minn. They will reside in Edmonton temporarily, after a wedding trip to Banff.

Edmonton Girl Weds American

At the vesper hour Saturday in the residence of Archbishop J. H. MacDonald, the marriage was solemnized of Miss Becky Anne LaBrier, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. LaBrier, and Robert F. Driscoll, youngest son of Mrs. Mary Driscoll and the late John Driscoll of Minneapolis, Minn. Rt. Rev. Monsignor W. B. Carleton officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a tea-length gown of white cut crepe de chine over taffeta, fashioned on princess lines with a full skirt and inset yoke of Chantilly lace with high round neckline. Her sleeves were leg o' mutton style and dipped to a point over the hand. Tiny head-like ornaments in a pencil row followed the line of inset lace in the bodice. Her veil of Chantilly lace cascaded from a coronet of gladioli. White satin slippers, and a cascade bouquet of white gladioli and deep red roses completed her ensemble.

Miss Shirley Dryden was the bride's only attendant. She chose a slipper length frock of turquoise taffeta with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, full skirt and long tapering sleeves. Her hat was a tiny calot model of turquoise, trimmed with a pink net veil and a cluster of gladioli. Her bouquet consisted of pink gladioli in varying tones.

Best man was W. Greer.

The bride is well known in Edmonton as a dancer. She has entertained the men in uniform at different functions, and has also danced in opera productions here.

The bridegroom is a member of the U.S. air base orchestra, and before coming to Canada was affiliated with several popular bands in the United States.

Girl's Jingle Gets Her Man

LONDON, Sept. 20—(CP)—Three years ago, 16-year-old Rose Wood was working in a clothing factory, dropped a jingle into a pocket in the soldier's battledress she was making. The jingle went:

"If you are single, drop me a line.
"If you are married, never mind.
"If you are single, and lonely, too
Write to me and I'll write to you."

Pte. Percy Lambert, 29, got the battledress—and the note. He wrote. They met. They were married recently.

Miss Helen Allison Lyons Is Bride of S. I. Dineen

Home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lyons, 11212 62 street, was arranged with mauve and varying shades of pink gladioli and sweetpeas, Saturday at 8:30 p.m., for the wedding of their daughter, Helen Allison, to Shirley I. Dineen, son of Mrs. Dineen, 11110 University avenue, and the late L. S. C. Dineen. The Rev. S. M. Hirtle officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a tailored, two-piece navy blue suit of fine wool, accented by a matching collar of lace. Her hat was a small original model of knitted straw trimmed with matching blue daisies. Other accessories were of blue, and her corsage was a shoulder bouquet of sweetheart roses.

The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Hazel Lyons.

A buffet lunch for the wedding party, relatives and immediate friends, was held at the home of the bride's parents, following the ceremony. The bride's table was set with a white linen damask cloth and was centred by a three tiered wedding cake flanked with yellow tapers and pastel shaded sweetpeas.

The bride's mother wore a jacket frock of powder blue in flock design. She had a shoulder cornsage of Talisman roses. The bridegroom's mother was smart in a street-length ensemble of Alice blue and Talisman roses for corsage.

They will make their home in Ponoka. For travelling the bride wore a trim dressmaker suit of Alice blue wool faille, tailored topcoat of herringbone tweed and black accessories.

Miss Lyons, a primary school teacher, and the bridegroom, a high school teacher. He was graduated from the University of Alberta.

Allied Casualties In Italy Light

By MARK WATSON
Baltimore Sun Correspondent,
Representing the Combined United States Press
Distributed by the Canadian Press

WITH THE 5TH ARMY IN ITALY, Sept. 20—Although no precise report of Allied casualties has yet publishable, it can be said that in proportion to the task thus far performed by the 5th Army in the Italian campaign losses sustained have been extremely light.

This applies to both British and American components of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's command and one surmises that it applies to the British 8th Army.

Modane Railway Yards Shambles Following Raid

BERNE, Sept. 20—(AP)—A dispatch from Chambery, France, to the Tribune de Geneva said Saturday that the R.A.F.-R.A.A.F. bombing of railway junction on the Italian-French border, left the city's railroad yards a shambles.

The bombing, coupled with sabotage of the Mont Cenis railway tunnel by Italian troops, was expected to halt traffic over the important rail link with Turin for seven to eight months, the dispatch said.

Canadian Legion Urged to Promote Empire Interests

TORONTO, Sept. 20 — (CP) — Premier Drew of Ontario, attending a Victory rally of Toronto branches of the Canadian Legion, last night urged members of the Legion to promote interests of the British Empire.

He said the Legion should remember its connection with the British Empire Service League.

Alex. Walker of Calgary, Dominion president of the Legion, said Canada's war effort would not have been hampered by what he called the present "unfortunate situation" if the Legion's plans for total war had been adopted three years ago.

LONDON.—(CP)—The Union of Catholic Mothers has sent to the board of Education a demand that Catholic children should be educated in Catholic schools provided and maintained by the state.

U.S. Naval Forces Hit Jap Islands

PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Japanese air base on Tarawa Island in the northern Gilbert group and Nauru Island west of the Gilberts, were attacked by U.S. naval forces Sunday, Monday night and yesterday (east longitude time), Admiral Chester W. Nimitz commander in chief of the United States Pacific fleet, announced.

The form of assault on the enemy's island bases was not specified in the Admiral's communique, but they probably were heavily bombed by carrier-based torpedo planes and dive bombers.

The attack on the islands, which form the eastern spearhead of Japan's Pacific defence perimeter came less than three weeks after the Sept. 1 bombing of Marcus Island, 1,200 miles from Tokyo.

In the Marcus Island raid American planes blasted the base for nine hours, smashing 80 per cent of the Japanese installations there.

Maj. Gen. G. E. Peabody, general officer, commanding-in-chief, Pacific command, said at Vancouver recently possible changes in British Columbia's dimout regulations are under consideration.

"We are not going to jeopardize security," Gen. Emmons said at his first press conference here Saturday. "But we are going to take calculated risks and place defence activities "on a more modern workable and popular basis."

Churchill Gets Great Ovation On Return to London

LONDON, Sept. 20 — (CP) — Prime Minister Churchill returned home last night to be welcomed enthusiastically by high-placed colleagues and hordes of admirers.

Sharing the ovation were Mrs. Churchill, their daughter Mary, sunbitten in the A.T.S. and Minister of Information Brendan Bracken.

As soon as he left the train, Mr. Churchill was cheered by a waiting crowd which somehow had learned when he would arrive. He was given a reception seldom matched in four years of strife.

Raiders Destroy 14 Nippon Planes

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Sept. 20—(AP)—In the latest full-scale combat in the aerial battleground over the northern Solomon Islands, 14 additional Japanese fighter planes were destroyed today, Allied Headquarters has been advised.

These were from a force of 60 interceptors which rose to challenge a raid by fighter-escorted American torpedo and dive bombers on the enemy's Ballale airdrome at the southern tip of Bougainville Island, and their loss lifted to close to 100 the number of Japanese aircraft destroyed in this sector within the last three weeks.

The new success enhanced is further damage to the battered and lagoon unusable airfield itself, was achieved at a cost of two bombers and four fighters, today's communique disclosed. Two of the pilots were saved.

London Expects Corsica to Fall

LONDON, Sept. 20—(CP)—The quick fall of Corsica was expected in London today on the heels of the German evacuation of Sardinia which was seen as resulting direct by from the Allied victory at Salerno.

One argument is that the Germans either had to hold both Sardinia and Corsica in strength or give up both, and they had only enough of two divisions on the two islands before the push in Italy and fewer men afterward.

There was considerable Jubilation over the fall of Sardinia because it was felt that taking the island by force would have been accomplished at more than the price of Sicily, since it would have required a longer water haul.

The Sardinia evacuation, apparently without firing a shot, saved lives and trouble, and gives the Allies excellent airfields for harassing the Germans in northern Italy.

Fliers Rescued After Aircraft Crashes in Lake

BUCKINGHAM, Que., Sept. 20—(CP)—Two fliers trapped in their aircraft when it crashed into Pike Lake, 15 miles northeast of here on Saturday were rescued by Joe Ross and his son by motorboat just before the plane disappeared.

The rescuers hauled the two unidentified men to safety after sighting them under two feet of water. Striving to free themselves from the harness, one of the fliers was taken ashore and attended by Dr. P. S. MacEachlan, who found they suffered only shock and a shaking up.

Strike Ends

HALIFAX, Sept. 20.—(CP)—A two-day strike of waterfront freight handlers ended Saturday afternoon when the 160 men returned to work. They had struck in protest against the dismissal of Ls. Gerald K. Idle, Edmonton, foreman on the National War Labor Board.

Badoglio Tells Italian People To Fight Nazis

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio told Italians in a broadcast that it is their "absolute duty to fight on the side of the British and Americans against the Germans and against the few renegade Italians who linger of such name—who put themselves at their (German) command."

The text of Badoglio's plea which was made from the new "Radio Italiana," on Sept. 16 was released for publication after it had been flown here from the Italian mainland.

The speech thus ranged Badoglio's leadership squarely against that of the former dictator, Benito Mussolini who on Saturday was quoted by the German radio as having made a broadcast urging Italians to take up arms again at the side of Germany and Japan.

CHANGED CONDITIONS

The marshal, who formed his government on July 25 immediately after Mussolini was thrown out of office, told his people, "Do not forget that all talk about unconditional surrender is out of date and irrevelant to the changed conditions of today. We have interpreted decisively against Germany following upon the aggressive attitude of the Germans. We are co-operating side by side with the Anglo-Americans who are now accepting our assistance in the task of driving the Germans from the country.

These and other sections of his speech were the first public avowals from any source indicating that the Italians probably will be accepted as full-fledged allies of the United Nations in the campaign to drive the Germans out of Italy.

Admiral Standley Returning to U.S.

It is considered unlikely here, however, that the American representative will return to the Soviet capital. Admiral Standley is 71 and had not planned to spend another winter in Russia, but his appearance was considered absolutely necessary.

Admiral Standley's departure was made 24 hours after the Washington announcement Saturday that he had been called home for consultation and passed speculation in London that his return might open the door for W. Averell Harriman, London lend-lease administrator, to participate in a three-power conference in Moscow.

C.C.F. Member Talks Equality Men and Women

TORONTO, Sept. 20.—(CP)—Agnes Macphail newly elected Toronto C.C.F. member in the Ontario legislature, believes that if the C.C.F. party ever gain a majority in the house of commons, a new type of Canadian woman will appear on the floor of the house and at political tea parties. Most of the women attending the meeting of the Ontario general council of the C.C.F. seem to be proof.

In the C.C.F. women play an equal part with the men," said Miss Macphail. Look at Ruth Jolliffe for instance." The pretty, blond wife of the Ontario party leader hurried past.

"If this was a convention of one of the old parties she would be all dressed up, looking beautiful in a picture hat, but making no contribution whatsoever. But in the C.C.F. we love her for her brains. She's not just the wife of the leader. She's a fellow worker, an important executive.

Seven Lose Lives In Bus, Train Crash

JOHNSTON CITY, Ill., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Seven persons were killed and at least 53 others suffered injuries yesterday when a Greyhound bus, Chicago-bound from Memphis, Tenn., collided with a two-car Diesel-powered Missouri Pacific Railroad passenger train at a crossing two miles south of here.

All but five of the casualties were passengers on the bus, said Coroner Lon W. Gasaway of Williamson county. The train, running from Marion, Ill., to St. Louis, ha only three passengers and three crew members. Two members of the crew and the three passengers suffered minor injuries.

Among the bus passengers who were injured were Dr. Luciano Milla Cisneros, 53, Hondurean minister to Guatemalla, and his daughter, Sofia Milla, 22. Their injuries were slight.

One woman was thrown from the bus under the wheels of the train and was decapitated.

TENDERS

Sealed Tenders, addressed to the undersigned and marked "Tender for Additional Development of Netook Aerodrome", will be received up to 12 o'clock noon, Eastern Daylight Saving Time, Tuesday, September 28th, 1943, for additional development of Netook Aerodrome, Netook, Alberta, consisting mainly in clearing, stumping, grading, smoothing and drainage.

Plans, specifications, labour conditions and form of contract to be entered into may be seen and tender forms obtained on application to the Acting General Purchasing Agent, Department of Transport, Hunter Building, Ottawa, Ontario, or from the District Airway Engineer, Post Office Building, Lethbridge, Alberta. Additional information, if required, relating to interpretation of plans and specifications, may be obtained from the said District Airway Engineer.

Plans, specifications, labour conditions, form of contract and tender forms may be obtained from either of the above officials upon receipt of an accepted cheque, made payable to the Receiver General of Canada, for the sum of $10.00. This cheque will be [illegible] return of the plans and specifications in good condition.

Each tender must be accompanied by a certified cheque on a chartered Canadian bank equal to ten per cent (10%) of the tender price, payable to the order of the Receiver General of Canada, which cheque will be forfeited in the event of the tenderer refusing to enter into a contract on the basis of his tender, if called upon to do so, or failing to satisfactorily complete such a contract. Cheques of unsuccessful tenderers will be returned.

Any tender not accompanied by a security deposit as described will not be considered.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

A. H. McKEE,
Acting Secretary
Department of Transport,
Ottawa, September 10, 1943.

Promoted

Appointment of James Colley to the position of assistant to the chief commissioner, department of immigration and colonization, Canadian Pacific Railway, Montreal, is announced by J. K. N. Macalister, the chief commissioner. Mr. Colley, who spent several of his 31 years of C.P.R. service at Calgary in the departments of natural resources and later colonization and development, served from 1921 to 1925 on the royal commission known as the Survey Board of Southern Alberta for the amelioration of conditions in that area. Germany Shifting Troops To Meet New Invasions

By JOHN H. COLBURN

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Germany is weakening her military position in Norway and Finland and retreating all along the line from the Smolensk area to the Sea of Azov in Russia for a shorter front in a frantic shifting of troops to meet anticipated new Allied invasion blows, reports reaching Stockholm said Saturday.

From 20,000 to 40,000 German troops have been removed from Norway in the last month, and thousands—one unconfirmed report said two divisions—have been withdrawn from Finland since Sept. 1.

Most soldiers trained in mountain operations were said to have been transferred to the Balkans, where the Nazi general staff faces a difficult task in replacing 29 Italian garrison divisions.

MOVED FROM RUSSIA

Swedish correspondents reported from Berlin that Elite German troops have been moved from the Russian front to reinforce troops under Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring and Field Marshal Erwin Rommel in Italy.

Where the main German defensive line would be was a military secret, but Swedish correspondents pointed out that if the Russians were able to continue their present terrific drive they would have as much to say about it as the Nazis. The Dnieper river is viewed as a possible line, but there already is discussion that the Germans might fall back to a line running from Riga to Odessa.

New Position

E. P. Wells, formerly assistant to the operations manager, Trans-Canada Air Lines, Winnipeg, has been appointed to the new position of co-operative assistant. His function will be to foster the spirit of co-operation between employees and management and to assist the employees in the development of co-operative committees. One of the original employees of T.C.A., Mr. Wells piloted the first mail plane operated by the company in its first service, between Vancouver and Seattle. He is well known throughout the west.

Wheat, Rye Hit Seasonal Highs

WINNIPEG, Sept. 20—(CP)—Wheat futures and the May rye option established new seasonal highs today in active trading on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

October wheat climbed to $1.18⅛, December to $1.17¼, May to $1.16⅛, while rye touched $1.02⅞.

At the close wheat was ⅛ cent higher to ⅛ cent lower and rye was unchanged to ¾ cent higher.

Good buying by American interests was reported in the pit. Offerings were liberal and well taken on the scale up. Light hedging was attributed to elevator interests. Some selling in the October was credited to a large local interest.

It was reported that Switzerland purchased 300,000 bushels of a high grade Canadian wheat.

Cash wheat trade was slow with shippers and mills taking approximately 100,000 bushels of No. 2 Northern. Business in other grades was on an odd car basis.

An estimated 500,000 bushels of cash oats were taken for the eastern feed reserve stock pile during the session.

Country wheat marketings yesterday amounted to 1,076,000 bushels compared with 613,000 bushels last year.

Canadian Women on Active Service Release More Men for Combat in Final Battles

Service Girls Receive Training in Many Trades, Competent as Brothers-in-Arms

Wren Kay Harling, Windsor, Ont., tackles a knotty problem in seamanship with Ordinary Seaman Ken MacLeod, Guelph, Ont. Wren Harling's white hat signifies she is in four weeks' training course at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, Deepbrook, N.S.

C.W.A.C. Sgt. Peggy Ferguson gets down to work at a desk job, releasing a top-notch fighting man for duty overseas. More girls will release men for services.

Even in R.C.A.F. machine shops women are doing useful work (upper). Cpl. Doris Pearsall, Bloomfield, Ont., (lower) is popular and attractive Air Force "chef".

Newly enlisted members of the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service begin training that will enable them to release men for sea duty. With its two sister services the Wrens are starred in the National Film Board's next Canada Carries On Film, "Proudly She Marches". The film will soon be released across the Dominion.

Pte. Mary Ko Bong, Vancouver, works on heavy guns in ordnance shop. Sgts. Perry Richardson (left) and Margaret Ferguson, Toronto, relax outside barracks.

A joint operations room where R.C.A.F. and Canadian Navy personnel work together. Messages come to the room from planes, air bases and Air Detection Corps members who report suspicious objects along coast. Here air force and naval officers wait for messages being taken down by two members of Women's Division.

It's not exactly "sea time" they're getting, but it all counts. Wrens stationed at H.M.C.S. "Conestoga", Galt, Ont., didn't take long to find the outdoor pool at Preston. Swimming along with other sports is part of the planned recreation at all Wren training centres, for all work, no play makes Jill a dull girl.

Unlocking Adventure

By CHARLES COURTNEY

CHAPTER XIX

ONE Wednesday afternoon in late March, my secretary called me from the cutting machine.

"London on the phone."

It had come. Sir Basil Zaharoff's voice, as clear as if he had been speaking in Manhattan, instructed me to take the Bremen on Friday for Southampton, where I would receive further instructions. With scarcely time to eat or sleep, I made final arrangements at the shop, bade my wife and daughter goodbye, and fell into my berth on the Bremen, too tired to think.

The two deep-sea divers who had worked out preliminary plans for the Hampshire expedition were outstanding in their profession: Costello, a lanky Australian who had brought up gold from many a famous wreck, and Mansfield from Norfolk, one of the best divers on the eastern coast, like his father before him.

Mansfield was on the pier in Southampton. After a hurried day in London where I took out a $100,000 life policy, we left for Stromness where we were to join our salvaging boat lying about 16 miles offshore. Everything had been done with the greatest secrecy, because no salvager has a claim to a wreck unless his ship is actually tied to the hulk.

A small boat took us out to the K. S. R., a stout snub-nosed vessel lying at anchor in a choppy sea. Captain Brandt, a fiehtly knit, gray-haired German with a competent air, met us at the ladder. He took us below to a cabin in which Costello was sitting over a game of solitaire. We three had barely settled ourselves when we felt the boat heading out to sea.

In the morning the boat began to cruise around in circles, darting this way and that like a pointer on a scent. Costello paced the cabin, nervous as a cat.

"The Hampshire should be just about under us. When we found her last year, I went down and fastened a buoy to her. She's so heavily armored that we're going to have a tough job. We can't use dynamite, and we'll have to be very careful with the torch or we'll explode the ammunition and send ourselves to Kingdom come."

"All right, boys. We've dropped anchor."

We helped Costello pull on a couple of woolen undersuits and pushed him into his diving armor. When his feet were on the stage, we bowed our heads while the captain muttered a prayer.

Costello's voice came through the telephone.

Then began a week of concentrated preparation, drills, instructions. First the divers had to be broken in, as most of them had never been deeper than 100 feet. The engineer took six or seven at a time, put them on a stage and lowered them gradually in their heavy rubber suits. When they reached the blackness of 250 feet, the mental and physical depression that seized them threw them into a panic. They shouted on the phone that they were sick, dying, anything to get to the surface. The engineer called soothing words to them, all the time lowering the stage. When they had reached the bottom and found themselves in the more cheerful twilight made by the reflection of the water on the sand, they felt better.

Soon the salvage boat was tied firmly to each end of the wreck and the divers were working with sand suckers and grabs, clearing a way to the breach that Costello had located the year before.

In the meantime we were busy above, checking our equipment. On the largest space of deck, we drew our chart. Costello outlined the Hampshire as she lay, showing the two holes that pierced her armor.

Were they torpedo or mine holes? Costello could not be sure. The larger one was undoubtedly a mine hole, but the small one might have been made by a torpedo that hit on a slant and tore a jagged opening instead of the usual round hole. Of one thing he was positive: there had been no explosion from within, as had been rumored in England, because the edges of the holes were bent in, not out.

When the sand and debris were cleaned from the breach, Mansfield, Costello and I went down to inspect.

At 385 feet there was light enough to see our way around.

The port side of the gun deck had been fairly cleared of wreckage. Each gun was loaded and beside it was a mound of skeletons with earphones on their heads, lying by shells that were never fired. In the forward hatchway, we stumbled over hundreds of skeletons, sailors who had tried to come up from below decks when the order was given to abandon ship.

At the small breach, luck was against us. A great mass of debris had blocked it from the inside, so we were pulled up and each took a stiff drink of Scotch to help us forget those poor fellows down below.

McCoy Health Service

A newcomer on the American farm scene is the soy bean which originated in the Orient. This is a valuable source of food and it is comparatively inexpensive. It has been part of the Chinese diet for many years and furnishes the necessary protein which is absent in rice. They are not only rich in protein, but also in calcium and they have a large amount of vitamin B and also varying quantities of vitamin A, D and E. The soy bean sprouts are a good source of vitamin C, the antiscurvy vitamin.

As times goes on thrifty housewives will discover new uses for soy bean products which are inexpensive, and yet furnish plenty of the vitamins and the mineral salts necessary for rebuilding tissues and maintaining life.

The question of how much money goes out for food is one of the most important of all questions in the average household, for with most families the food bill is the largest single bill which must be met. The housewife who can cut down on the food bill and still provide adequate nutrition for her family certainly deserves our highest praise. However, if the housewife only determines to feed her children and family as inexpensively as possible, she has learned but half of her lesson. It is when she feeds them inexpensively and at the same time feeds them well, that she has learned the whole lesson.

It has been pointed out that those who are in good health are those most apt to experience unemployment while those in excellent health stand the best chance of keeping their jobs and being first in line for raises and promotion. Therefore, watch your food money, if for no other reason that that you want to keep physically fit so that you will earn that extra money in your pay envelope.

Some of the pioneers of nutrition in America pointed out many years ago that in spite of the generous amount of money spent on food, many people are actually undernourished because foods are unwisely selected and such pioneers called this country, "Starving America," pointing out that those who thought they had plenty might at the same time be starving for food minerals.

Food bills are easily sent upward by careless selection. For example, the buyer may select an expensive cut of meat, or an expensive vegetable, or may choose foods which are high because they come in packages. Food costs may also be increased through being careless as to the quantities of foods purchased. For example, if you have a large family, it is not economical to buy foods in the smaller sized cans, where the larger sizes may be permitted. Also in small families it is generally not a good plan to buy more than will be eaten, unless the cook is especially clever in making good use of leftovers.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large, stamped, self-addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1151 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Central Pacific Chief Appointed By United States

HONOLULU, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Lt.-Gen. Robert C. Richardson was designated commander of United States Army forces in the Central Pacific area Saturday in a move viewed as indicative of Hawaii's transformation from a defensive bastion to an important springboard for an accelerated offensive against Japan.

Richardson has been commanding general of the Hawaiian department, United States Army.

The announcement said Richardson was notified of his new assignment immediately after the recent Quebec war conference of high officials of the United States, Great Britain and Canada.

Order Separate Trials For Two In Upper Court

Separate trials for Sam B. and George Desjarlais on a charge of murdering Karl N. Hemmingsen, Monday River district trapper, were ordered in supreme court Monday by Chief Justice W. C. Ives.

Application for the separate trials was made by Hugh Calais Macdonald, K.C., counsel for George Desjarlais. The hearing of the charges will take place at the court house starting on Monday, Sept. 27.

William Ostashek, Edmonton, failed to answer when called to plead to a theft charge. On application by J. W. McClung, K.C., crown prosecutor, arraignment of this accused was deferred until Tuesday. If Ostashek does not appear then application will be made for the estreat of his bail bonds.

OBTAINED MONEY

It was alleged by the crown that the accused obtained money from Mrs. Gardiner to do certain repairs to her home, and had failed to complete his undertaking, or to return the unexpended portion of money paid him.

Adjournment was granted to Phillip Low, Edmonton, awaiting sentence on conversion charges. R. Fred Jackson, counsel for Low, stated that his client was busily engaged in harvest work in southern Alberta and would like an adjournment until the next court sittings. Crown Prosecutor McClung said he had no objection to the adjournment.

U.S.A.A.F. Chaplain Speaks at Service

"We must learn to control our speech for it actually reveals to those who hear us the kind of character we really are," Capt. Walter E. Lundberg, chaplain with the U.S. A.A.F., told a congregation of civilians and Allied servicemen Sunday at the Soldiers', Sailors' and Airmen's Christian Association meeting at the Holiness Forum church. His topic was "Thy Speech Betrayeth Thee." He called particular attention to using God's name in vain.

In completing his talk Chaplain Lundberg expressed gratification for the fine interest and co-operation Edmonton people have shown in behalf of the service men.

Before the Magistrate

James Frank Boone, who didn't want trouble with anybody, admitted he had assaulted Robert Hildebrand by holding him against a wall and hitting him, but said the latter had called him names. He was fined $15 and costs or 21 days, when he appeared before Magistrate A. I. Millar, K.C., in police court Monday morning.

Boone and Hildebrand, each driving a motor vehicle, got their bumpers hooked together in downtown Edmonton. An argument followed, and, said the accused, "When the other man asked what I was going to do about it, I hit him."

A constable, in giving evidence, said he had found the two men at 12:10 a.m. Monday, at the corner of Jasper avenue and 97 street. The accused was holding the other man against the wall with one hand, while he used the free hand to hit with.

Asked by the magistrate how long he had been in Edmonton, Boone replied that he came here five years ago and this was the first time he had had any trouble. He added that he didn't want trouble but he wasn't letting anyone pick on him.

Two traffic offences were dealt with. A. O. Varnabo, pleading guilty to a charge of operating a vehicle at an unreasonable speed, was assessed $20 and costs or 30 days. Albert Paul, who pleaded guilty to driving a public service vehicle more than 30 miles an hour, was fined $10 and costs or 14 days.

THE QUESTION

Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., recently passed a resolution urging the Dominion government pass legislation at once preventing court orders for evictions until new housing here is sufficient to care for the needs of all citizens. Do you approve of such action?

THE ANSWERS

JOAN EGGEN, student: I think the stand of the Legion is only proper. You just cannot apply regulations that are proper for ordinary times to the situation now prevailing in Edmonton.

PAUL JOHANNSON, mechanic: I think the government should set up an emergency board to deal with housing in Edmonton. No one should be evicted unless other accommodation is available. That is only common sense under the circumstances. I think the Legion attitude is logical.

C. McNIVEN, Canadian Army: I'm not sure as to just what is the proper remedy under the existing circumstances as regards housing in Edmonton but I think that something drastic must be done. Wartime conditions call for a different kind of civil redress than is adequate in peace time. I think the Legion is being only realistic.

This is one of two postcards that Dorothy Metcalf has received from her husband, Ensign John Metcalf since he was taken prisoner by the Japs when Corregidor fell. Only the barest personal information is permitted to be written, and this is typed in the allotted space.

American Red Cross Worker Cheers Service Men While Husband Japanese Prisoner

By JANE MEYER

Dorothy Metcalf's smile and encouraging words cheer many a lonesome soldier at the U.S. Army Service Centre. Few of them know her story, the anxiety and grief that have followed her for almost two years. If they did they'd say: "If you can take it on the chin and smile, so can we."

Dorothy is Mrs. John Metcalf, 24-year-old Field Representative for the American Red Cross. Two years ago life looked bright for this slender, blue eyed girl as she said her marriage vows to Ensign John C. Metcalf, U.S.N. in New York.

Pearl Harbor found Ensign Metcalf on duty at the Cavite naval base at Corregidor. He had been stationed there since Nov. 15, 1941.

When this stronghold fell, May 6, 1942 he was taken captive and sent to a Japanese prison camp, presumably on the Philippine Islands.

Mrs. Metcalf has had three communications from her husband since that time; a letter that Col. Warren J. Clear brought her, and two postcards. Col. Clear was on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's staff and was one of the last to leave the island before it fell. Mrs. Metcalf said: "Col. Clear gave me the letter from my husband while I was in Los Angeles. He told me that just before he boarded the submarine on which he made his escape he went to my husband and asked him if he would like to write me a letter. My husband only had time to hastily scribble a few lines in pencil.

"His words were full of courage and he told me not to worry.

"Col. Clear told me that he and my husband took daily swims off The Rock. They became good friends."

A FEW WORDS

The printed postcards are the only kind of communication that the Japs permit their prisoners of war to send to their families. Not much can be said. Simply a few words that they are well.

Dorothy Metcalf drove an ambulance for the Women's Motor Corps of the American Red Cross in the United States, but she wanted to do more active work and she applied for overseas duty. She was sent to San Francisco, then to Seattle to work in a Navy hospital. Dorothy took additional Red Cross training in Washington, D.C., and then came here.

At first she was disappointed that her overseas duty did not take her to some far away place like India or Africa, but Dorothy Metcalf concluded:

"I'm glad I'm on this continent. Maybe my husband will be released from the Jap prison camp, and if he is I will be here when he arrives."

Hears From Japan

Worthless Cheque Is Given to Hotel

A man who presented a cheque to the Royal George hotel on Sept. 17, secured $20 in cash and ran up a hotel bill for approximately $80, T. Cristall, manager, told police Sunday. The cheque, purportedly made out by a men's furnishings shop for advertising, was found worthless.

The man had rented a room at the hotel, the rent for which amounted to about $80, said the complainant, adding, that at last he had asked him to leave.

When the guest appeared later and presented the cheque, drawn on an Edmonton bank for $50, and signed by the manager of a men's shop, Mr. Cristall stated he accepted it, paying the man $20 and crediting his account with the balance.

Further checking disclosed that the man was no longer employed at the shop, at which he had said he was working.

A description of the man was given to police and hotel operators in the city will be warned about the individual.

Stook Sweep Is Solution to Labor Problems

One solution to labor problems on farms this year is the stook sweep, a work-saving device developed by the provincial department of agriculture, and now being distributed through the Provincial Marketing Board. The machine resembles a large hay fork and is fastened to the front of a tractor. Iron prongs run along a row of stooks, pick up a number, and carry them off to a threshing machine. The stook sweep is said to do the work of four bundle teams in harvest operations. One hundred and fifty of the machines, built by Standard Iron Works, Edmonton, were shipped recently to farmers in the western provinces. In the picture, G. A. Clash, provincial marketing board, inspects a shipment of sweeps being sent to western farmers.

Earl of Athlone Visits United States Army Base; Converses With Patients

His Excellency the Earl of Athlone, K.G., P.C., G.C.B., G.C.V.O., D.S.O., LL.D., Governor-General of Canada and H.R.H. the Princess Alice inspected the U.S. Army Base Hospital and the U.S. Army Air Base here Monday.

As they went through the wards Princess Alice stopped and spoke to some of the soldier patients. She asked Sgt. Jack Latta, 23, of Indianapolis, Ind., how his fractured arm was progressing. She inquired about the broken foot of Staff Sgt. Eugene Warren 22, who comes from Berkley, Cal.

Her Royal Highness's words brought smiles to the faces of PFC. Russel Roberts, 27 years old, of Louisville, Ky., who is suffering from arthritis; Private John Adams, of New York City, and Private Willy Roger, colored, who is from Austin, Texas, as she stopped and wished them a speedy recovery.

TO AIR BASE

From there the party rode to the U.S. Air Base where they were greeted by Col. Dale V. Gaffney, commanding officer of the Alaskan Wing, U.S.A.A.F., Maj. Joseph F. Westover, commanding officer of the base and Major Ben Pearse, special assistant to Col. Gaffney.

A special guard of honor under the command of Lt. George Regitko and the military police detachment under Lt. Herman Wittig, military police chief, were standing at attention in front of the hangars as the Governor General and his party arrived.

Accompanied by Col. Gaffney, Maj. Westover and Maj. Ben Pearce, the governor-general drove to the Quartermaster Depot where he met Maj. A. H. Clark, chief of the Quartermaster's Detachment on the Base.

Air Force Openings For Qualified Men

There are openings in the R.C.A.F. at the present time for a number of qualified tradesmen.

The need for this class of experienced tradesman is urgent. They must have a satisfactory knowledge of the operation, care and maintenance of all types of pumps and with water, fuel, chlorination and sewage disposal systems.

Applicants should also be qualified to read meters and be able to test water lines. They should also be qualified to take daily tests of sewage effluent and make out reports.

Canadian troops are located in strategic defence areas in Newfoundland, Labrador, Alaska and islands adjacent to the West Indies and the east coast of the United States.

United States Airman Crosses Sea 17 Times

Master Sergeant J. G. Osborne has made 17 trans-Atlantic flights, but he considers this item in his adventure filled life scarcely worth mentioning.

His most exciting sky ride was when he was flying in a C-87 Jan. 10, 1943, between Casablanca, Africa and England. He was a crew chief and there were 26 passengers aboard.

As they crossed Plymouth, England, they suddenly realized that they were in the centre of a German air raid. For 45 minutes Osborne and everyone on the plane expected to be killed any second. To add to their peril, engine No. 3 burned out. They were finally rescued by a flight of Spitfires and escorted to Exeter Field.

Master Sgt. Osborne's home is at East Hampton, Va. He first joined the U.S.A.A.F. on July 18, 1929. He was discharged on July 30, 1936, and rejoined at Langley Field, Sept. 27, 1939.

He has made many ferrying flights, 17 of which took him across the Atlantic ocean, carrying pilots from South America to Africa. These flights took 30 hours, round trip.

One of his over-water flights that he considers worth mentioning is a flight from Bolling Field, Washington, D.C., to Newfoundland, Greenland, Iceland and Scotland. This was a survey trip, the first of its kind. As a result of the findings a permanent route was established there.

Another highlight was from Bolling Field down to the West Indies, South America and over to Africa and India.

Another exciting experience was on a trip from England to Casablanca. On the way the plane caught fire three times. It finally landed safely at Casablanca but the crew had to abandon it after as it was damaged beyond repair.

Osborne recalled last Christmas Day, when the Germans dropped two bombs on the air field and deposited the rest on a nearby town, killing 368 Arabs.

Drafting Plan To Hire Women Part Time Work

Selective Service officials are making plans for the hiring of housewives and other women to do part-time work to help alleviate the serious labor shortage in Edmonton.

A meeting was held Friday night at which the officials met, and discussed the idea with nearly 50 employers in the city. The employers are enthusiastic about the idea, according to A. O. MacLachlan, assistant manager of Selective Service.

A committee was formed, representing the different industries in Edmonton to investigate the needs of employers and will report how many part-time women can be used.

Officials have arranged with the Local Council of Women to sponsor a campaign asking housewives and other women not fully employed to take part-time jobs. These women will be paid the prevailing wage rates.

Mr. MacLachlan said, "The greatest drawback so far is the lack of day-nurseries for young children.

Selective Service is asking the city council to consider the matter of day nurseries for childen so their mothers may take part-time work."

MAY REGISTER

Those who wish to offer their services may register at the Selective Service office either in person or by phone and it is possible that the office will stay open some evenings to accommodate those who cannot get there during the day.

The committee representing city employers will hold another meeting with the officials next Friday night at which they will report the requirements of various companies in the city.

Miners Preparing Take Strike Vote

Preparations were being made Monday by the miners in the Edmonton area, for the strike vote which will be taken Tuesday in District 18, United Mine Workers of America. It was estimated that some 900 miners here will vote.

In the whole district, which includes Alberta and part of British Columbia, there are between 9,000 and 10,000 miners.

The miners are demanding a $2 a day increase for all employees, time-and-a-half and rate-and-a-half for work on the sixth day of the week, and two weeks holiday with pay for employees who have served a year with the coal companies.

Recently the National War Labor Board increased the rate for the Edmonton area for an interim one of $5 per day to $5.37 a day. The miners had asked for $5.79 per day. This is in addition to the cost of living bonus of 71 cents per day now allowed the miners.
